

Plan Additional Work In Renovation Of Town Auditorium

Approval of a remodelling project in the auditorium of the Newmarket town hall is expected at the next meeting of council. Councillor J. O. Dales, chairman of the property committee submitted tenders to council on Monday night and recommended that the work be started immediately.

Mr. Dales had gone ahead with the plans and called for tenders up to last Saturday. Mr. Dales and Mr. Boyd, members of the property committee, agreed on starting the project. "Part of the $10,000 through the sale of the drill hall will pay for it," Mr. Dales said. Council recently sold the drill hall at the old fair grounds to Dick Rukpe for $10,000.

Mrs. V. R. MacNaughton said the property committee's plans should have included the dressing rooms and the stairs behind the stage. "The dressing rooms are in a dangerous condition," she said.

Reeve Arthur Evans said, "I can't see why we can't wait another year. You can say you have $10,000 and want to spend it but at the same time, we have waited for years for a new library but we haven't one yet. We didn't get a building at the top of the Main St. hill for a library."

"I have suggested to the property committee on previous occasions that we should put in new stairs behind the stage. You need a map to find your way up and down those back stairs and then it's necessary to go in single file when there is a crowd at the hall," said Councillor VanZant.

Councillor Paynter agreed that new dressing rooms and stairs were needed.

Monday night was the third meeting in which the auditorium plan was discussed. At the previous meeting there was talk of "making a complete job" of the auditorium renovation but council approved of the committee's

Pickering College Opens Fall Show

An indication of local interest in art was shown with the opening on Saturday of an all-Canadian exhibition at Pickering college. Included were paintings, sculptures and crafts. The show, the work of past and present members of the student body and staff of the college was catholic in scope and treatment. It ranged from conventional landscapes and still life to abstractions, commercial designs and the work of representational painters. Various media, such as oils, egg tempera, ink and wash, gouache and water colors were included in the exhibition as were pottery, wood and color lithography.

In so all-embracing a showing, comment is inevitable. The "double-vision" oils of Harold Haydon produced a stir on opening night. Haydon, who was a member of the Pickering College staff, 1933-34, is professor of Fine Arts, University of Chicago. Other artists who have established names for themselves in the field of modern art, Lawrence

BELL OFFER TO BUY EAGLE ST. PROPERTY FOR NEW BUILDING

A large Bell Telephone Co. building may be erected on the south side of Eagle St. within a year. The company recently made an offer to purchase property north of the Armitage Heights subdivision, on the south side of Eagle St.

Council has been trying to sell the land for some time. The Bell's offer is $600 for the seven lots, a total of $4,200. The company asked council to accept the offer before October 31. Council agreed that the offer be accepted.

According to Mayor Vale, the company plans to erect a large building to house company vehicles which are used in a large district around Newmarket. The mayor said that the type of building usually put up by the company would be an asset to that part of the town.

"The property would be landscaped and a chain link fence would surround it," the mayor said. "The building would be set well back from Cawthra Blvd."

FIFTY-THREE MEET AT BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR CHALMER BLACK

Fifty-three relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Black on Sunday evening, Oct. 19, to honor Mr. Chalmers Black on his 70th birthday. Tea was served from a beautiful table, with pink and white flowers, candles and a lovely birthday cake. Also celebrating a birthday this month was Mr. Black's sister, Mrs. L. Lyons, Newmarket.

Mrs. C. Black and Mrs. Lyons poured tea. Their corsages were of baby pink roses and baby white mums. The junior girls serving were Lois Marchant, Sylvia and Nancy Greensides and Carol Black. INJURED IN CRASH ON YONGE ST.

Leonard Shropshire, farmer from Eversley, near King, is in York County hospital with a knee injury, result of a collision with the rear of a car on highway No. 11, at Elgin Mills Tuesday. Mrs. Marion Caseley, 26, of Richmond Hill, was the driver of the other car.

Both cars were proceeding north and Mrs. Caseley stopped in the centre lane to make a left hand turn. The other car was in the act of passing a truck, police said. Mr. Shropshire said he thought the Caseley car was moving at the time. His knee-cap was dislocated when it struck the steering column. It had to be wired in place and put in a cast for a month.

Owners Complain That Subdivision Being Congested

Complaints about subdividing within a subdivision were registered by a delegation of a dozen property owners on Monday night, from the Miller subdivision near Eagle St. and Lorne Ave. A spokesman for the delegation said that two lots in the subdivision had been sold and that three houses were being built on the lots where there should be no more than two houses, according to the subdivision plan.

When the department of planning and development approved of the subdivision plan, single dwellings were to be on each lot, the spokesman told council. The delegation asked that no two dwellings be placed on a lot so that one dwelling is behind the other.

The lots which the residents are concerned about are lots 21 and 22 facing Avenue Rd. and Helmer Ave. Three houses are being constructed on the two lots.

According to Councillor Charles Boyd, the lots are owned by separate persons. Building permits have been issued and construction has started on the three homes, he said. Mr. Boyd said he understood that the construction of the houses conforms to the town building by-law. The houses do not cover more than one third of the size of the lots and they are set back the required distance from the front of the lots, he said.

The delegation said that the subdividing of the lots could not conform to a by-law the town was to have passed on the suggestion of the provincial department of planning and development. He said that since there is a contravention of the by-law, construction should be stopped. There was no indication from members of council that such a by-law had been passed.

"We object to this re-subdividing because it may set a precedent for dividing other lots in the subdivision. Eventually the subdivision would become a congested area," a property owner said.

Another resident said he had planned to purchase lots in the same subdivision to re-subdivide and build houses but that he was told by town officials that such a scheme would not be permissible.

The mayor said that council was not prepared to give a reply as to what was right and what was wrong at the Monday

Dangerous Driving Charge Against Trucker Dismissed

A charge of dangerous driving, laid against Fred Moore, Newmarket, was dismissed in magistrate's court, Newmarket, this week. The charge was laid earlier this fall by East Gwillimbury township police following a fatal accident on the Sharon-Mount Albert road.

The accident resulted in the death of Aubrey Brennar, a farmer who lived east of Sharon. Moore had been travelling west with a loaded gravel truck. His truck hit a trailer loaded with hay which was being drawn by a tractor, driven by Brennar, in a westerly direction. Another car was travelling east at the time of the accident.

No evidence was found in court for a dangerous driving charge. The magistrate's decision explained that Moore had a choice of hitting the trailer or the oncoming car. There was no evidence of excessive speed or overloading.

Mr. Robert Lother Kendall,
President,
The American Feline Society,
New York, N.Y.

Dear Mr. President: Mr. Bruce West, in the Globe, has dedicated himself to a National Mouse Week in November. It is obvious to this correspondent and, I am sure, to most readers, that Mr. West never would have thought of a mouse week had not National Cat Week come first.

It just happened, said Mr. West, that his National Mouse Week was dated for the same time as National Cat Week.

Your favorite correspondent also received your batch of material, colored poster stamps, literature and slogans urging us to "Save America's Cats".

Mr. West definitely made light of National Cat Week, sponsored by your American Feline Society, New York, N.Y. On certain points, we go along with him and we commend him for making his National Mouse Week strictly a Canadian effort.

But this correspondent must support the cause of cats in general, for obvious reasons. We are dedicated to making light of national weeks which originate south of the border but in this case, we must deviate.

Mr. West has struck a mean blow at cats. Setting up a week in opposition, he is weak.

Owing to the expansion of his trade, Mr. John Jones of Owen Sound, practical watch-maker, has been added to the staff of Wainman's Jewelry store.

Mr. Verne Arnold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Arnold, Newmarket, who was located on the staff of the C.N.R. at Bracebridge, is transferred to Aurora.

Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong of New Toronto motored here last Friday afternoon bringing her mother back to town after a fortnight's visit on the Hamilton highway.

The surplus earth during the grading of Victoria Ave. has been placed on the low corner of the Stuart Scott school grounds, which will be a big improvement when seeded down. A quantity has also been used on the low corner of the lawn of St. Paul's church grounds.

There were numerous visitors at the new hospital on Sunday afternoon.

The house and lot on Joseph Ave. belonging to Mr. Ben Bees have been bought by Mr. T. J. Richardson of Eagle St. through Hodgins' real estate office.

The Junior Farmers of Newmarket District, from 16 to 23 years of age, are having a contest in the market building, Newmarket, on Wednesday of next week. There will be five classes of stock and five classes of grain. The highest ton in the competition will be shown around the city of Toronto and entertained at the Royal Winter Fair at the expense of the Department of Agriculture. The competition is open to the public.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hammell of Weston and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hammell and daughter visited with friends in Tottenham on Sunday.

The following have been appointed delegates by Trinity S. B. to the provincial Sunday school convention in Toronto next week: Rev. A. E. Marshall, Mr. Walter Stephens, L. G. Jackson, Mrs. B. Hewitt, Mrs. Higson and Mrs. Winn.

Mr. and Mrs. Mickle of Gravenhurst spent the weekend with their daughter, Mrs. Howard Cane.

ening the position of cats in general. We cannot, under any conditions, support his National Mouse Week; we are forced to support National Cat Week even though it originated south of the border.

We must point out that Canadian cats are self supported and completely independent. They are not influenced by propaganda from the United States. Canadian cats really don't need a week.

We received your batch of Cat Week publicity previous to the publication of Mr. West's column. Had Mr. West not set himself up in opposition to National Cat Week, we might have taken an entirely different stand on this. Or we may have ignored the week. But since the cause of cats in general has been struck a mighty blow, we support your week.

Mr. West says that Mayor Lamport has been approached on the idea of releasing a pair of mice on the City Hall steps to open National Mouse Week. A union of National Cat Week supporters, local 17, quickly organized Monday night, has already laid plans to picket the City Hall steps with 50 angry cats on the opening of our week.

Down with Mr. West and his National Mouse Week!

A cat I must remain,

Sincerely yours,

Ginger.

Last Friday night some 25 Royal Templars drove out to Mr. Walter Eves' residence and gave him a surprise, as a token of good will, and had a splendid time.

While playing on Thanksgiving Day, Wallace McDonald, son of Mr. Thos. McDonald, had his arm put out of joint at the elbow.

The town electric light service was added to the Era Office on Wednesday, making it the most complete printing office to be found in any small town in Canada. Fast presses, typesetting machine, gasoline and electric power, newspaper folder, etc. Visitors are welcome.

Last Sunday morning, while assisting to get breakfast ready, Miss Ethel Fallis, eldest daughter of the Methodist parson, accidentally knocked the teapot off the kitchen stove and scalded her foot so badly that the skin all peeled off when her mother removed her stocking. Medical aid was sent for and she is doing nicely, but it may be several weeks before she will be able to be around again.

Rev. J. E. Everingham and wife, and Mr. J. A. Collins, who were attending the Quadrennial Convention of the Christian church at Norfolk, Virginia, got back home last week, and brought many kind regards for Newmarket people from Americans who were delegates here four years ago. It was very warm down there and Canadians felt the heat more than any time last summer. Mr. Collins came back more satisfied than ever with our own delightful country.

Mr. Simon Rogers of Michigan, son of Mr. Solomon Rogers, who moved from here to Mariposa in 1845, has been visiting relatives in this vicinity for the past few days.

A freight car loaded with fruit jumped the track at a switch at Thornhill last Monday afternoon and delayed traffic for several hours. The car and contents were a total wreck.

Mr. W. B. Forbes of Streetsville, former science master in Newmarket High School, was calling on friends in town last Friday.

THURSDAY, THE TWENTY-THIRD DAY OF OCTOBER, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-TWO

HIGHWAY REGULATIONS

A few weeks ago a gravel truck was involved in a fatal accident in this district. Last week another accident on the new Barrie highway resulted in three fatalities and over twenty injuries. It is difficult to be satisfied that the Department of Highways is not fully responsible for this senseless slaughter. A gravel truck broke down, an occurrence which perhaps is inevitable. But it was not carrying any road flares. That fact shows a laxity in regulations or enforcing regulations. A bus crashed into the truck; three were killed, many injured.

Trucks carrying gravel, sand or fill are important in the department's extensive building program. They are indispensable. They are encountered on any highway, day or night. Is it not time that they should be covered by more extensive regulations and that regulations be enforced?

The trucks may not be employed by the department directly but the construction companies employing the truckers are under contract with the Department of Highways. It is not easy to believe a government would award a contract to a contractor whose equipment does not guarantee the safety of the public. The department should go further and attempt to establish minimum hours and reasonable returns to these truckers. Such measures would go a long way towards eliminating overloading and speeding, two factors affecting road safety.

There is yet another safety factor to consider. The new Barrie highway, for the greater part, was surveyed "as the crow flies". There are stretches where, for miles, there are no houses or other inhabited places. The department should consider the establishment of an emergency signal system or a safety patrol. Such a device could have saved lives last week when the bus crashed into the abandoned tow truck. Assistance through a signal or patrol system would have enabled the driver of the broken down truck to stay with his vehicle instead of leaving it as it was, a death trap.

A NATIONAL LIBRARY

One of Canada's needs is a national library at Ottawa. This need has been described for years by educationists and all who are interested in the nation's cultural development. To our knowledge, nothing more has been achieved in government quarters other than recent suggestions of plans.

That Canada should lack a national library so long is something approaching a national disgrace. It has been said that Canada alone, of all the civilized countries, is destitute of a national library. A national library is a symbol of cultural achievement. It is a centre not only for scholars but for those who are interested in art, science and literature.

There has been an enormous growth of literary output in Canada during the past quarter of a century, especially within the last decade. A great number of new books have been published by new authors, many of which have gained international distinction. It can be claimed that Canada has a literature of her own. History, science, biography and fiction of high quality has come from Canadian authors.

Despite literary achievements, Canada has no national storehouse for the preservation of these works by her native authors, no repository for their works of art. It is time that this fundamental national need received the attention it deserves.

EXCLUDING TOO MANY?

(The Financial Post)

If Canada is to reach the modest total of 40 millions population by the end of the century, as has been predicted by Prime Minister St. Laurent, then our immigration doors will have to be opened wider than they are at present. The experts do not agree on the exact volume of immigration needed for such a goal but they are unanimous that the minimum annual flow must be over 200,000.

For the first time since the migration boom of 1910-15 we reached that minimum figure last year. Then we applied the brakes. For the present year, under the new selective policy adopted last June, the total will be substantially less.

Reports from Ottawa hint that our new immigration restrictions may be modified. Thinking Canadians will certainly say they should be, so long as they are keeping us from getting the kind of people we need and can use in Canada.

There is plenty of work in this country waiting for both the native-born and the immigrant provided they are willing to work. In the last three or four years of substantial immigration we have demonstrated that. We have absorbed more than half a million newcomers since the war without any upset in our economy. Indeed without the additional people our recent amazing industrial development would not have been possible.

There is one vital point in this business which we must keep firmly in mind. That is the effect on our domestic market. More people in Canada mean more sales in Canada, more consumption of our surplus production at home.

Transplanted here from Britain, and from Continental Europe these people will consume far more goods than we can ever hope to sell them while they remain in Europe. At the same time they will help share the burden of defense and other overhead that is bound to be top heavy in a country of vast distances and still sparse population.

PLANNING BOARD NEEDED?

A number of property owners complained to council this week about a particular case where property in their subdivision was being re-subdivided. Two lots on a corner had been sold and three houses are being built on the two lots, according to the delegation's spokesman.

According to the town solicitor's information, the particular subdivision in question, near the corner of Eagle St. and Lorne Ave., was approved by the minister of the department of planning and development in 1950. Following approval, the department suggested that the town pass a by-law to prevent further subdividing.

The home-owners were of the opinion that the town had passed a by-law to prevent further subdividing of lots. They believed the houses being built at the present time were being built in contravention of the by-law. We have no recollection, however, of such a by-law being passed.

We are not attempting to put blame on one or more individuals. The issue which arose over the three new houses and the re-subdividing of lots has not yet been settled in council. But the case further shows that council needs help in planning.

The final decisions on town planning should be made by council. The town council alone, however, has not the time to attend to the many details of town planning. In a community the size of Newmarket, it is possible that a separate body, a planning board is needed to assist council.

It was stated by a member of the council planning committee this week that the committee had a policy of "going over" new subdivisions. The failure to pass the covering by-law may not be the fault of the committee yet it would appear that members of the committee should not have let the passing of the by-law be pushed aside for two years. The answer may be that council has too much work to look after.

NUB OF THE TROUBLE

(The Printed Word)

"The present sessional indemnity of $4,000 plus the $2,000 tax-free allowance of members of Parliament," says the member for Simcoe North, Julian Ferguson, "is far too little to bring into Parliament the type of men the people of Canada need." The present remuneration of honorable members he describes as "disgraceful and insulting".

It is easy to think of a good many Canadians who would regard an income of $6,000 a year, $2,000 of it tax-free, as neither disgraceful nor insulting. And there is little to suggest that the United States Congress, which pays members of the House of Representatives a salary of $15,000 a year, is any more fortunate in the type of men attracted to public life than is the House of Commons.

At no time in parliamentary history has it ever been intended that the sessional indemnity should be regarded as a salary. A salary implies tenure of office, and tenure of office tends to make the incumbent little better than an office-holder. The problem of how to attract able citizens to run for Parliament is a grave one, but the experience of the U.S. does not indicate that higher pay is the solution.

Britain had the best and most independent parliament when the members were not paid.

Pages from the Editor's Notebook

Every week we have some particular trouble. This week we are bawling it. Granted, Harry has been giving us some good meals but we only eat out once a day; we try our hand at cooking for the other meals. Breakfast is the big problem. It is difficult for us to face food at any time before 9 a.m. but when we have to prepare it, that is entirely too much.

The better half took the children and went home to mother for a week last Saturday. (There was agreement on both sides, of course.) change is a good thing once in a while. But when we rise at 7 a.m. and trudge down the stairs to the kitchen, view the pile of dishes in the sink and observe that the frying pan has been frying for three days without washing, we are turned away.

Breakfast has been a miserable failure. The evening meal is not much better. Since all the available dishes, other than the good set, have been used up during the early part of the week, there is nothing to eat from, other than cans or cooking pans. Last night we enjoyed some canned stew out of a fruit bowl.

You can see the problem. It would be heresy or something for a married man to wash dishes when his wife is away. There is only one thing left to do, that is to start in on the good chinaware. We foresee another problem tomorrow. The sink will be overloaded. We will have to use the wash basin upstairs, or the bathtub.

The Newmarket Dramatic club presented a successful show last Thursday, Friday and Saturday. There seems to be a renewed interest in the club. More people are joining and the future promises more productions more often. The director showed ingenuity in acquiring a lead man for "Lily, the Felon's Daughter" by seizing a department of highways surveyor from a drug store soda fountain. The surveyor is in town for only six weeks. He was given an honorary membership in the club after the final performance Friday night. The player is John Quinsey from Ridgeway. It was his first appearance on any stage.

The construction work on Yonge St. has made a great change west of Newmarket. Persons who have not been for a drive that way in the past few weeks will notice a vast difference.

The roadbed is being raised considerably between Eagle St. and Davis Drive corners so that a passing motorist has a better view of Newmarket. After dark, a new row of street lights on the new continuation of Millard Ave., in the Crossland subdivision, marks the town well.

There was talk in council this week of taking advantage of the new construction on the highway being done to improve and widen the north-east corner at the Eagle St. stoplight.

When the job is completed, the danger of summer tourists passing Newmarket without realizing its existence, long a worry to merchants, may have disappeared.

This is a season of initiations. Last Friday the high school had its initiation day and there were strange looking creatures walking along Main St. Picking College also had its "new boys" celebration and a chain gang was forced to march through the streets last Wednesday. Pyjama-clad new boys were tied by their wrists to a long rope and razed by the "old boys".

The Top Six Inches by "Dairy Farmer"

We were at a sale the other day, a farm sale held by a man who has retired from farming. Now there are few things that are so much like an economic weathervane than a farm sale; first, because it offers a variety of implements and animals that are of everyday use; secondly, because it attracts a very large crowd, considering the amount of money involved; and finally, because the prices realized represent the confidence a man has in his own business.

It is especially true for livestock. Some implements are subject to fluctuating values, depending the time of the year. A man may pay a lot for a hay-loader which he can hook on and use next day or very little if he plans to store it for eight months before using it. But the price paid for livestock is a gauge which shows the farmers' thinking and confidence.

At this sale, prices were very low. They showed a great lack of confidence in the immediate future and they showed a caution which hasn't been seen for a while and finally they indicated that income is smaller than it has been for years.

The man who sold out received less and he in turn will not have the money to spend on his new home; so the vicious circle continues. If this circle will continue long enough, we may well have eventually, lower wages and lower prices. But it would need to continue for a couple of years at least before the benefit would ever reach the man who sold out today. In the meantime the farmer is going to bear the brunt of the present low food prices. This of course is the crux of the matter. Whether the low food prices will give us an export market or not, or whether the embargo is lifted soon or not, the farmers' income is down today and his buying power is cut down to the point where the rural communities will soon feel the effects of it.

If this turn of events is allowed to gain too much momentum, or in other words, if the farmer is allowed to retire into his own shell and live from day to day the way he did some years ago, it will take a long time to bring his earning power back to where it should be. Sooner or later some shortages will develop as farmers give up or cut down on some of their programs. Then we will have imported foods and all the other protection that the mass of the population expects.

We have no doubts that the government and the Federation of Agriculture are well aware of these trends. Undoubtedly, some serious thinking may be going on now to assure some relief. But let the high civil servants and our leaders remember that what is needed today and not tomorrow is some sort of reassurance, some show of confidence.

Any farmer knows that among the many things which may effect his income, weather, rainfall and disease, price fluctuation is one to think about. Farmers don't expect fixed prices, subsidies and such, but what they do want is some sort of statement to show that those who are in the position to know, really do know what is going on.

and announcements will be printed separately.

Union Street branch met at the home of Mrs. Archie Sedore on October 2. There were 27 members and 28 visitors present. Members of the Bogartown Institute were guests with 24 of their members in attendance. The roll call was answered with a current event. Mrs. Frank Perry gave a suitable reply to the motto. The convention program was read and the correspondence dealt with, following which Mrs. Perry welcomed the Bogartown Institute. Bogartown ladies provided the program which began with community singing, followed by an interesting paper on "Medicine from Bees", given by Miss Starr. Mrs. Fletcher sang two hymns. Mrs. E. McClure gave a reading, "The High Cost of Living". Mrs. Ridley and Mrs. Walton played several piano duets. Mrs. Colville gave a short address, followed by the reading of several poems by Edna Jacques. A reading was given by Mrs. Harper, "Romance in the Kitchen".

A humorous reading was given by Mrs. Frances Walker, "W. I. Meeting". A week-naming contest, conducted by Mrs. Penrose, ended the program. After the singing of the Queen, a dainty lunch was served by the north group. The November meeting will be held on Tuesday instead of Thursday, because of the convention.

Aurora branch regular monthly meeting will be held on Thursday evening, Oct. 23, at 8 p.m., at the home of Mrs. V. Fines, Yonge St. N.

Roll call, "My Thanksgiving Blessing", program in charge of Mrs. H. Anderson, convenor of community activities. This is our Halloween party and a prize will be given for the best costume. Shower for bazaar on November 15 will be fancy work and knitted goods; also articles valued at 5c, 10c, 15c and 25c for the travelling fish pond.

Hostesses, Mrs. J. Klees, Mrs. H. Foster, Mrs. E. Foster, Mrs. Davidson.

Sharon branch held its October meeting at the home of Mrs. Phil Hamilton. Seventeen members and one visitor were present. Roll call was answered by a gift of jam for York County hospital; 17 jars of jam were donated. An "at home" instead of a November meeting was discussed and it was decided to have Miss Anna Lewis show slides for the program. Date of the "at home" to be published later.

We were glad to hear Dr. Margaret Arkinstall. She spoke on "Good Health". Three essential things for good health are food, rest and exercise, she said.

Mrs. J. Greig gave two readings "Certain People" and "Minding the Gap". Mrs. C. Ward gave current events. A contest was put on by Mrs. J. Greig. After God Save Our Queen, refreshments were served and the meeting closed. A number of members went on a tour through Warendale after meeting.

The regular meeting of the Mount Albert branch was held Thursday, Oct. 9, at the Community Hall with 30 members and seven visitors present. The roll call was "My Favorite Hobby". During the business period $25 for wool was donated to be knit for the York County hospital bazaar. Thursday, Nov. 6 was decided on as the night for a card party and dance. The Horticultural Society was given a $10 donation. A nice amount of fruit, pickles and a donation of $15 was collected for towels for the York County hospital. As usual, a Halloween party is being planned for the children. The November meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. B. Sinclair.

The conveners, Mrs. H. Broderick and Mrs. E. Crozier had a most interesting program on "Hobbies". Mrs. George Walsh gave a talk on hobbies as a most satisfying and profitable way to spend our spare time. If more people would indulge in a hobby, fewer people would have nervous breakdowns. A busy, interested mind is a happy mind, she said. Describing a trip to Brantford, Mrs. Walsh spoke of a Mr. Hyslop, a hobbyist she visited. His wife does shellwork and he has just completed a fretwork grandfather's clock.

A large and varied display of articles including quilts, rug collection of corns paintings, figurines and scrapbooks were shown. Mrs. W. Couper played several old selections on the piano. It was announced that a Handicraft show is being held in Toronto at the coliseum from Feb. 8 - 14. A social half-hour brought to a close a most interesting program.

Diabetes and diet was the subject of a talk by Dr. W. G. Grant to Laskay branch, held at the home of Mrs. Pearson Smeltzer, Oct. 14. There were 28 ladies present to hear this important topic.

A disease of the pancreas, diabetes occurs when this organ fails to manufacture enough insulin to balance the carbohydrates and sugar in the blood stream. There is no proven cure or recovery from the disease, but with the discovery of insulin and the use of proper diet a very great deal has been accomplished.

The disease is more common in persons of 40 or over, noticeably those of over-weight, although the young are not exempt. They have the malady more acutely and require more insulin, but are less susceptible to departure from diet. "To become influenced or persuaded to slacken from the prescribed dieting is folly," said Dr. Grant. A greater percentage of women than men have diabetes.

Dr. Grant was introduced by Miss Winnifred Boys, Reg. N., who with Mrs. E. Bath and Mrs. F. Buddin, arranged the program.

Medicine in the home cupboard brought out answers to the roll call, while Mrs. C. A. Black provided a health theme when she told how happy people are those who have vision and will accomplish their aims in life by perseverance. Failures along the way stir initiative and spur one to greater action. Steep hills of achievement are not won by the rapid climber. They are surmounted by the steady worker. "Keep plugging away is my advice today," was the title of a few verses which aptly closed her motto remarks.

The branch is sending for the book which will contain the history of Laskay and community, as its Tweedsmuir history. Members contributed the 35c fee toward the branch share in helping to finance the A.C.W.V. conference next year.

The Institute is arranging a Halloween party for neighborhood children on October 31 in Laskay W. I. In the evening, Parents and friends will attend and all are urged to appear in costume. Prizes will be awarded and a silver collection asked for to defray expense.

The Institute euchres will commence on Friday, Nov. 13, in the hall.

Queensville branch will meet on Wednesday, Oct. 29, at 2 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Harry Morton. Motto, "Service is the rent we pay for the privilege of living on this earth."

Roll call, "What I Grow in my garden" and "why". Program, Agriculture by Mrs. R. Bennett. Hostesses, Mrs. Cole, Mrs. H. Morton and Mrs. S. Eves. Please note that there will be a jam and jelly shower for York County hospital.

Lakeside branch meeting will be held Tuesday, Oct. 28, in the Memorial hall, Kewick, at 8 p.m. Everyone is welcome. Come and bring a friend. Roll call, "Responsibilities of a Citizen".

KETTLEBY

The W.A. and W.M.S. of the Kettleby United church met in the hall Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 7. Mrs. Wm. Hodgson conducted a short business W.M.S. meeting and then withdrew in favor of the W.A. special meeting.

Mrs. L. V. Heacock presided over the W.A., assisted in the worship period by Mrs. Robt. Graham, Mrs. C. Black and Mrs.

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville
KAWARTHA LAKES

Kawartha Lakes, how fair they lie,
Girdled by pines that scent each vagrant breeze,
Their waters rippling 'neath the changing sky,

Reflecting in their blue, the clouds and trees.
Within their depths the fish dart to and fro,

Teasing the fisherman with dreams of what might be,
For trout and muskies, bass and pickerel go

Intent on fly and gnat for all to see,
Shy deer, the lakeland roam,

R. Marshall. Further plans were made for the bazaar to be held Saturday, Nov. 1.

Mrs. Heacock welcomed guests from Laskay W.M.S. and Kettleby Institute and introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Elton Armstrong who based her remarks on Prov. 26, 20, "Where no wood is there, the fire goeth out, so where there is no talebearer the strife ceaseth." She said we should, in all societies, learn to do our discussing in the meetings and to be big enough to see the other fellow's viewpoint and abide by the majority vote.

She gave the challenge of responsible citizenship a wider interest and deeper knowledge of community and world affairs. She suggested that something should be done towards unification of educational standards across Canada. Why should a student moving east invariably lose a year's grade? she asked. We must first learn to give and take in our own communities before we can expect to have world wide co-operation. Mrs. Armstrong urged us to always say New Canadians, not D.P.'s and told us of two boys she had the pleasure of knowing who had brought much of value to Canada. Mrs. Trevor Proctor and Mrs. Ross Walton favored the meeting with a duet.

Each dappled fawn, a moving, living flower,
While many woodland creatures make their homes

Within the forest where the pine trees tower.
The birds sing undisturbed, their choicest lays,

Rejoicing in their woodland paradise;
They have no care but joy in lovely days,

Their food secure, their toil its only price.
Through woods, on lakes, the happy people go,

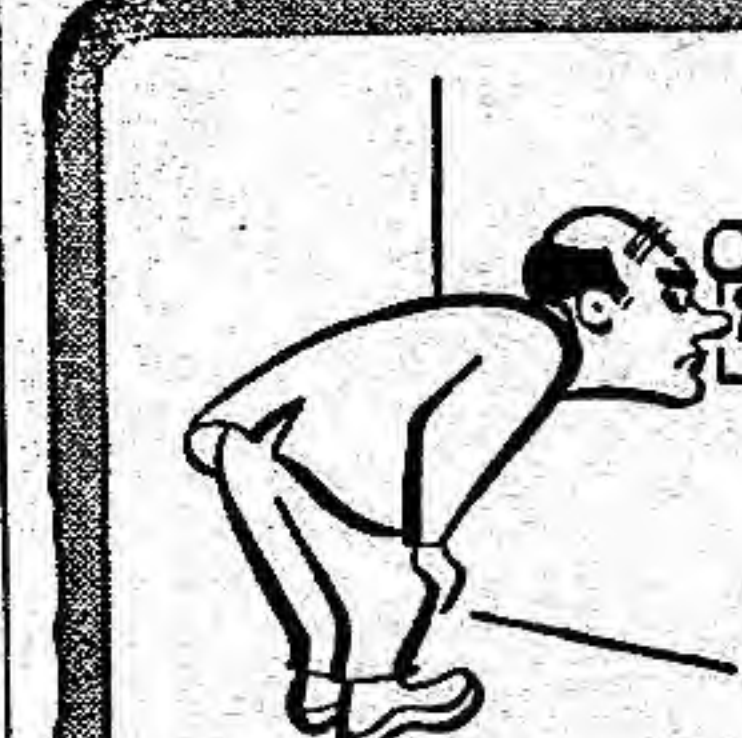

Who find and love this land of wood and lake,
For Canada has much, her people know,

For those who beauty love, for beauty's sake.
These lakes are strung like pearls on a chain,

Sapphires blue, in emerald settings rare,
They drink the nectar of the sun and rain

And ready lie, the loveliness to share.
Kawartha calls, come where the skies are blue,

Where recreation, relaxation wait for you.

GIVES ADDRESS ON CIVIL DEFENCE

Civil Defence was the topic of Fred Lundy's talk at the general meeting of York County Hospital Women's auxiliary on Tuesday, Oct. 7. Held in the Agricultural Board rooms, the meeting was chaired by Mrs. W. O. Noble.

Mr. Lundy, an ex-reeve of Newmarket and ex-warden of York County, has been active in local politics for many years. He is a member of the board of the Toronto and North York Roads commission. Mr. Lundy outlined the masterplan for civil defence as set up by federal authorities. The responsibility for civil defence is brought to the municipal level with each locality left to organize its resources for emergency. Toronto has been designated as a primary target in the event of another war with York County as a buffer area. It would mean that people would be evacuated to this district.

Mr. Lundy said that it was important to have the people qualified for leadership and emergency work before the need arises. To prevent possible confusion or panic, such groups as the hospital boards and staffs should be trained. A survey of the buildings within the community and a listing of emergency equipment should be made. More first aid courses should be established and more people encouraged to take them.

Women's organizations within the district could furnish the necessary impetus to begin civil defence planning. How much better it would be to have the organization detail completed before such emergency services were called upon than to wait in doubt and confusion later. There is a general apathy across the Dominion on this topic and women could assist by urging local governments to seriously consider their responsibilities regarding civil defence.

A social hour brought the afternoon meeting to a close when Mrs. John Dales' committee served light refreshments.

TEACHER REVEALS SECRET

"Blue makes white"
"Helping my young Johnny with his homework proved interesting the other night. He said his teacher had told the class that seven colours combine to make white—and blue is one of them. I've always used Reckitt's Blue in my washing and now I know why. Out of the blue comes the whitest wash, and Reckitt's Blue costs just a few cents a month."

OBITUARIES

On Monday, Oct. 6, Gladys Irene Smith passed away at York County hospital, Newmarket, after a lengthy illness.

She was born at Sharon, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Absalom Willson. The deceased married Willard Grose in 1908. Mrs. Grose was a member of St. James' Anglican church and a life member of the W.A. Her chief interests centered around her church, home and music. During her earlier years she was a music teacher in the community.

Her maternal grandfather, John T. Stokes, was the architect for the church to which she devoted most of her life. She was the great-granddaughter of the late David Willson, founder of the Children of Peace society and builder of Sharon temple.

Surviving are her husband, three daughters, (Marion) Mrs. Norman Pearson; (Gertrude) Mrs. Tom Lowndes; and Kathleen; one sister, Mrs. C. R. Montgomery, Toronto; one brother, Frank R. Willson, Souris, Man.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. A. J. Arthur, at St. James Anglican church, on October 3. Pallbearers were Melvin Grose, Winnipeg; Norman Pearson, Tom Lowndes; W. Oster, H. Montgomery and J. D. Montgomery. Interment was in Queensville cemetery.

George Clifton Cook

On Wednesday, Sept. 24, 1952, George Clifton Cook, passed away suddenly at his former farm home, lot 33, con. 5, a result of a heart attack.

He was born on lot 34, con. 6, the eldest son of the late Ida Mount and John Cook. He married Florence Wray in 1909. The deceased was a retired farmer, having moved to Aurora on August 1.

Surviving are his widow, Florence, one daughter, Velma, two brothers, Harold, Toronto, and Earl, Kettleby.

The funeral service was held at the Thompson Funeral home on September 27, with Rev. W. E. Smalley conducting. The many floral tributes showed the high esteem in which the deceased was held. The pallbearers, all lifetime neighbors, were Stanley Baradell, Harry Webster, Leo Blackburn, Frank Curtis, Chalmers Black, Walter Clarkson. Interment was in Kettleby cemetery.

School Field Day Results

Close to 300 students of the Newmarket public schools from five-year-old toddlers up the line to 15-year-oldsters took a breather from their studies recently to compete in the public schools' annual track and field meet. Naturally the S. S. field site of the big doings was a busy spot for approximately seven hours as the competitors vied for ribbons, medals and championships.

Most prized ribbons of course were red hued ones, indicating first place, and in that department Karen Peat, speedy, not quite six years old, stole the show with four, sweeping to victory in every event in her class. Graham George, who wound up senior boys' champ, was well bedecked with red ribbons, counting five. Linda Purcell collected three first and a second, good for intermediate girls' title, and John Georgas boasted four firsts and a second mark in the boys' intermediate events.

Program went off without a hitch and Principal H. A. Jackson and P. S. staff are to be congratulated. Pleading feature, too, was the fact there was an increased number of parents on hand over past years to see their young shavers do their stuff. Results were as follows:

Since the first Canada Savings Bond was sold —interest payments totalling about ninety three and a half million dollars have been paid out to about one million owners. This represents an average return of approximately $100. Some owners have earned more interest than this—some less—but all would agree that they have had a handsome return for an investment that is cashable at full face value at an instant's notice.

It is the easiest, most carefree way to earn money that one can imagine. And now the new Seventh Series of Canada Savings Bonds offer a better return than ever! They pay an average of 3.44% per year if held for their full term of 10 years and 9 months. The Seventh Series bonds—like earlier issues—are cashable at full face value plus interest at any time at any bank in Canada.

IT'S A Woman's World

BY CAROLINE ION

The Newmarket Dramatic club opened its new season with a three-act melodrama of the gay nineties, "Lily, the Felon's Daughter". Directed by Joe Dales, the presentation was one of the best by the club which we have seen.

Those who missed the production at the town hall on Thursday, Friday or Saturday of last week missed an evening of fun. We chuckled through the performance and since then on recalling certain characters or lines have had another laugh. Specialties during intermission (or as our more learned colleague, Herbert Whitaker phrased it in his column, "Show Business" in Tuesday's "Globe and Mail," "the olio entertainment") was provided by a colored gentleman named "Moe". My, but that's a talented cat, we have in our staff.

It was a very smooth production. There wasn't a weak character in the play. Over a period of time we have come to expect outstanding performances from such actresses as Grace Sinclair and on this occasion she maintained her reputation. Delivering her choicest lines with dead-pan expression she was rewarded with roars of laughter from the audience.

Experience did not account for all of the fine performances turned in by the cast. Two of its members had never appeared behind the footlights before.

Fred Henney, as Robin Steel, "as black as coal" was very good as was the hero, John Quinsey.

Quinsey is probably an unknown name to most of you as it was to us. It appears that the director was having difficulty finding the right "Compton Fairweather", our brave hero, "as handsome as a Greek god". Over coffee one morning at Altkinson's he spied with his ever-eagle eye one John Quinsey. "Ah, huh," says Joe. "There's our Compton." Of course, Mr. Quinsey was rather amazed when approached to see if he'd consider the male lead in the club's opening presentation. He is employed with the department of highways and was to be in the district for about six weeks. He agreed to try the role and was a perfect counterpart for blond, diminutive Audrey Halmes who gave a fine performance as the heroine.

Don Cummings and George McNelly were both very good with the latter contributing some wonderful touches of humor. Frank Turner, the villain, was soundly hissed by the audience and Kay Kudelka, the doting mama, applauded on her exits.

Supporting roles were ably handled by Laura Styke who also acted as prompter, Dorothy Bowman and Evelyn Denne. Credit lines are due Ken Leaming, staging; Jack Fisher, lighting; Lillian Warner, properties; Dorothy Bowman, make-up, and Florence Goldsmith, music.

Authentic costumes for the heroine, loaned by Mrs. Herbert Dunham, added to the excellency of the overall production. Ingenuity, a vital quality in any dramatic presentation, was present. The attractive hurricane lamp used in one of the scenes was nothing more than a lemon squeezer inverted over a green vase.

The club is planning an English pantomime for the Christmas season. "Jack and the Beanstalk" is the one selected. Probably, the club will travel with the opening presentation, "Lily, the Felon's Daughter", as one invitation has been received to date.

Plans were begun for the annual spring fashion show by the Newmarket Business and Professional Women's club at the club's October 20 meeting. Mrs. Chas. Boyd was appointed convener. The date was set for March 11, 1953, at the Newmarket town hall.

Weddings

LANGFORD-CURTIS

Of wide interest was the pretty wedding in the Christian Baptist church, Newmarket, on September 27, when Violet Doreen Curtis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Curtis and Kenneth Roy Langford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Langford, were united in marriage by Rev. A. R. Yielding. The church was beautifully decorated with standards of chrysanthemums and baskets of gladioli. The wedding music was played by Rev. L. R. Coupland of Toronto. Before the ceremony, Mr. Donald Langford, brother of the groom, played as a cornet solo, Handel's Largo and during the signing of the register, he played "The Holy City".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose an original gown of white satin, fashioned along princess lines with long sleeves tapering to a point. French rose-point lace gathered at the waist formed full side panels over the satin skirt. Appliques of the rose-point lace were also fashioned on the tightly fitted bodice, which buttoned from the mandarin collar. Her fingertip veil of rose-point lace was held by a Mary Queen of Scots' headdress, edged with tiny seed pearls. The bride carried a white Bible with a white orchid, surrounded by deep red pinocchio roses and stephanotis.

Miss Irene Curtis was maid of honor for her sister and chose a gown of Autumn Gold corded taffeta. The heart-shaped neckline formed a cape collar which was gathered at the front to form a bow. A crinolined hip-length peplum over a full skirt, tapered to a point at the back. She wore matching elbow-length mitts and headdress and carried a bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums.

Miss Shirley Langford, Toronto, sister of the groom, Miss Muriel Rawn of Guelph and Miss Hilda Davies of Aurora were bridesmaids and wore similar gowns of Emerald Green corded taffeta with matching mitts and headdresses. They carried bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums.

Miss Susan Lloyd was flower-girl and was gowned in Autumn Gold corded taffeta. The long three-tiered skirt and shawl collar were edged with pale green lace. She wore a matching bonnet-fashioned headdress and mitts and carried a basket of yellow chrysanthemums.

Mr. Victor Langford was best man for his brother. Ushers were Mr. George Curtis, brother of the bride, and Messrs. Bruce and Glen Langford, brothers of the groom.

After, in the church reception rooms, the bride's mother received, wearing a gown of Morning Glory Blue crepe and lace panels. Her accessories were navy blue and she wore a white gardenia with pink pinocchio roses. The groom's mother assisted in a gown of dusty rose, with black accessories and wore a gardenia with pink pinocchio roses.

For travelling the bride chose a navy blue dressmaker suit of silk bengaline and shoes and bag of navy snakeskin. Her hat was of frosted white beaded velour and her furs of Russian minks, were a gift from the groom. Her corsage was of pink pinocchio roses and stephanotis. On their return from a trip through Ontario, Quebec and the Eastern Coastal States, Mr. and Mrs. Langford will reside in Midland.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was dressed in a white satin gown with white fingertip veil. Her bouquet was a cascade of yellow poms and carnations, outlined with yellow roses, with mauve net and ivory satin ribbon. She wore a blue supple necklace, the gift of the groom. Miss Chris Went, maid of honor, wore green tulle. Miss Fay Black and Miss Georgina Chadwick were the other attendants, dressed in mauve tulle, mauve tulle and matching overskirts. They carried nosegays of yellow carnations, surrounded with mauve poms and yellow satin ribbon. Miss Marilyn Mundy was flower girl, dressed in green taffeta and net overskirt. She carried a nosegay of yellow roses and mauve poms with yellow ribbon.

Mr. Stanley Pollard assisted the groom. Messrs. Ronald Bray and Robert Burch were the ushers.

The reception was held at St. Paul's parish hall, where the bride's mother received in a blue crepe dress, with black accessories and a corsage of American beauty roses with white chenille stems, feathers and American Beauty satin ribbon. She was assisted by the groom's mother who wore a cocoa brown crepe dress with brown accessories and a corsage of Johanna Hill roses, cream chenille stems and feathers with with lime green satin ribbon.

For a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls, Buffalo and Rochester, the bride chose a navy suit with matching accessories. Her corsage was a American Beauty roses, white poms, with pink chenille stems and pink satin ribbon. On returning the happy couple will reside in Newmarket.

Guests were present from Uxbridge, Toronto, Aurora, Langstaff and Newton Robinson.

COATES-MILLER

On September 27, in the Queensville United church parsonage, a lovely autumn wedding took place when Lorna Doreen Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Miller, Sharon, became the bride of Mr. Ira Norman Coates, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Coates, Mount Albert. Rev. E. V. Warren officiated at the ceremony.

The bride chose a ballerina-length dress of white lace over white taffeta. Her shoulder-length veil of white net was fastened to the headdress with white orange blossoms. To match the dress, the bride chose white shoes, gloves and purse. The bride's corsage was red roses and white mums.

Mrs. Howard McGuckin, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She chose a dress of mauve taffeta and matching accessories with a corsage of pink roses and mums.

Mr. John Coates, brother of the groom, was best man.

A reception was held at Sharon hall, where the bride's mother received in a rosewood silk mesh dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink and yellow roses and mums. She was assisted by the groom's mother, who wore a gray gabardine dress with black accessories and a corsage of mauve and yellow mums.

Guests came from Toronto, Whitby, Newmarket, Mount Albert, Bradford and Barrie.

Since one we loved so well, Was taken from our home on earth. With Jesus Christ to dwell. The flowers we place upon her grave. May with and decry; But the love of her who sleeps beneath. Shall never fade away. Ever remembered by daughter Amy and husband Leslie.

PICKERING - In loving memory of my dear brother, Sgt. George Pickering, Irish Regt. of Canada, killed in Italy, Oct. 24, 1944. Only a memory of by gone days. And a sigh for a face unseen; But a constant feeling that God alone, Knows just what should have been. Sadly missed and ever remembered by sister Ellen.

PICKERING - In loving memory of my Uncle, Sgt. George Pickering, Irish Regt. of Canada, killed in Italy, Oct. 24, 1944. Gone from us, but leaving memories. Death can never take away; Memories that will always linger. While upon this earth we stay. Always remembered by niece Betty.

RAE - In loving memory of a dear mother, Marie Rae, who passed October 20, 1944. And while she lies in peaceful sleep Her memory we shall always keep. Lovingly remembered by Ethel and Albert.

INTERESTING TALKS HIGHLIGHT B. AND P. DINNER MEETING

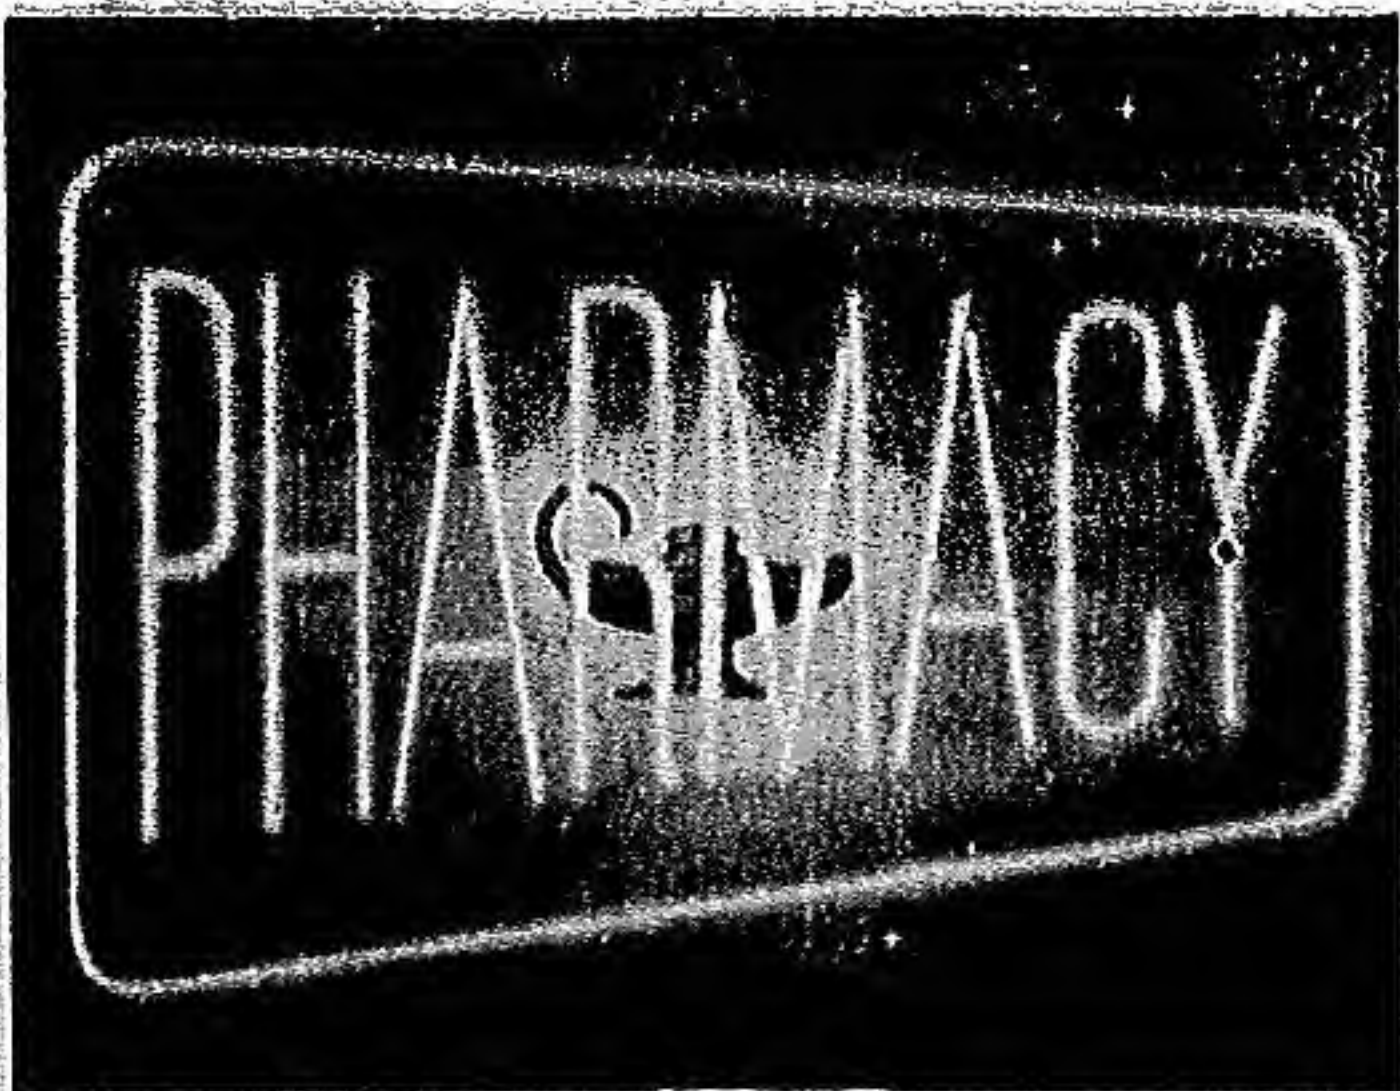

Several interesting talks highlighted the October 20 dinner meeting of the Newmarket Business and Professional Women's club. Miss Norine Ayers presided.

Mrs. Ernest Rank gave an informal account of her trip to England and France. Mrs. Violet McNaughton spoke on "Wills" and Mrs. A. Kudelka gave an excellent report on United Nations' activities.

In her interesting and educational talk, Mrs. McNaughton advised against surprising one's beneficiaries. It was very important for them to understand the terms of the will, she said.

Mrs. Rank conducted the members of the club on a word-tour of the sections of England and France she visited this summer. After an absence of nearly 30 years, Mrs. Rank returned to her home in Bristol.

Mrs. Rank was the guest of several members of the Kettering B. and P. club. She delivered an album containing pictures and thumbnail sketches of the members of the Newmarket club. The Kettering club was adopted by the Newmarket group. Many parcels and correspondence have been exchanged between the two groups. The Kettering club will be the recipient of a ham at Christmas time with the best wishes of the Newmarket club.

BEHIND THE LIGHTED SIGN of the modern pharmacy there burns a lamp as old as history itself—the lamp of learning.

For today's pharmacist is a man of long and specialized training. To get his college degree, he must have a broad and exact knowledge of the many technical sciences associated with the action, handling and dispensing of drugs, chemicals, biological products and other medicinal agents.

He must pass rigid State examinations to become a licensee, pharmacist.

Then, like your doctor, he must keep abreast of the latest medical developments, the newest drugs, and the constant improvement in pharmaceutical products.

The shelves of his pharmacy are stocked with the newest discoveries of medical science and an array of bright, attractive merchandise that go to make today's drug store a center of service in its community.

SHOW COLOR FILM ON TOWEL MAKING

A color motion picture, "Towel Tales", will be presented on Monday, Oct. 27, in the Newmarket town hall under the auspices of the Newmarket Women's Institute. A two-hour program which will include movies, a demonstration and question period and a draw for towel sets is being provided through the courtesy of Senecal's. Proceeds go to the Newmarket W.I.

The movie, "Towel Tales", illustrates the story of towel making from the creating of beautiful designs through the interesting dyeing processes, intricate machine work and high-speed looms in action to the finished product seen against its appropriate background.

The program will assist homemakers in learning to recognize the important towel weaves, jacquard, crash, terry and huck. It will help them in the selection of towels for their homes and outline what may be expected in color-fastness, unshrinkability and wear.

Peel-York League Organized For '52-'53

Staunch hockey men from Bolton, Nobleton, Schomberg, King City and Kleinburg met last Thursday in the Nobleton arena to organize the Peel-York Hockey League for the 1952-53 season.

First business on the agenda was the naming of an executive. Ted Huston (Bolton) was elected president, Bruce Hall (King City), vice-president. Bill Bredon, Schomberg's ace sportsman, was returned as sec-treas. Schomberg's Sodbusters, King City Maroons, Bolton Wanderers and Kleinburg Greenshirts are definite starters in the league race.

The doors were left open for two weeks for Nobleton Gophers and Kettleby Jets, league members last season, to re-enter. Present plans are to stage a double-header a week in the Nobleton arena.

As yet the night for the weekly twin-bill hockey fest hasn't been set. The schedule is expected to start about the middle of November.

Present at the meeting were Elgin Hastings, Bill Bredon, Schomberg; Bruce Hall, Tom Hulme, King City; Ted Derbyshire, Ted Huston, Bolton; Andy Shaw, Chas. Ellis, Kleinburg; Harold Cain, Harold Taylor, Nobleton.

Newmarket Mfgs. Present Trophy

The Office Specialty Softball team, champions of the Newmarket Town League, and the executive of the Office Specialty team were guests of the Newmarket Manufacturers' association at a banquet held in the King George hotel Wednesday.

Top item on the agenda was the presentation of the Newmarket Manufacturers' association cup, emblematic of town league supremacy. Association President Art Carson did the honors and in his brief address congratulated the team on its winning effort. Will Elsbey, replying on behalf of his Office Specialty team mates.

Each member of the team and the team's executive were presented with individual trophies, a gift of the Manufacturers' association. Presentation of the individual trophies was made by G. L. Manning, J. S. Law, Jim Gairdner, Art Carson, Frank Courtney and W. A. Spear.

Trophy recipients were Wayne Manning, club president; A. H. Topham, vice-pres.; coach Harold Craddock; manager Peter Neufeld and players Don Burch, Charles VanZant, Harry Boag, John Shedlowick, Laurie VanZant, Vernon Mosier, Gord Cook, Will Elsbey, John Hisey, Don Glover, Bruce Andrews, Players Bernard Kay and Jerry Hugo were absentees. The event rang down the curtain on the town league softball season.

Newmarket Dist. League Switches To Tuesdays

There's been one switch in the Newmarket and District Hockey League plans for the coming shiny season. The league will play all their games in the Newmarket Arena on Tuesday nights instead of Monday.

The switch to Tuesday was made to enable the Newmarket Figure Skating Club to secure additional skating time on Monday nights. That means the league opener will be carried over a day and everything now looks ship shape for the league's grand opener Tuesday, Nov. 4.

Both Mount Albert and Vardorf finalists last year are getting the jump on new entry Kettleby and Town Regents in the conditioning circuit as they've booked practices this week at the rink.

In the league klick-off on Nov. 4, Mount Albert will go against Town Regents at 7.30 p.m. while Kettleby Jets will battle Vardorf Bruins in the nightcap at 9 p.m.

SPORTS CALENDAR

Oct. 23, 7.30 p.m., Newmarket arena, Spitfires practice; 8 p.m., Newmarket arena, Town Regents hockey club organization meeting.

Down The Centre

By AB. HULSE

Scarboro Rangers who play in the big six junior "B" group will provide the opposition for Aurora Bears on Friday night. The Rangers aren't rated as strong as Western Dukes and with several more practices under their belts, the Aurora kids should look better than they did last Friday when they absorbed a 6-0 shellacking from the Dukes. Western was a better team but not only were they better, they were rougher as well; 122 minutes of penalties didn't please the fans. The Bears didn't start it, but they did their share after the first Donnybrook.

Babbie Forhan scored a goal for the Dukes and looked good on right wing but the training he's received was shown in his play. All the Western players act like pros on the ice and know all the tricks of the trade for protecting themselves and bashing down an opponent who plays with his guard down.

It's hard to analyze the Bears' roster. The three goalies, Lefty Brown, Whitley, Wally Rhodes and Joey Burke all looked good. Brown, 'tis true, was scored upon three times in the first stanza, but the Bears were jittery at the start and didn't begin to look like a team until the second period. Changing lines, lack of condition by some, and the desire to give all a chance made it difficult to get the range on the kids.

Hickory Patton, who comes to the Aurora defence via Nobleton, looked good until he was waived from the game. Andy Closs, Walt Fines, Bob Hanna and Bob Fallis with Noel Ash being able to double in brass, the blue-line brigade looks better than last year by far. The presence of Bill Smith, Jeff Holder, Nobleton, Noel Ash, Tom Collings, more than offsets the loss of Keith Collings and Bob Forhan. The rest of the lads are all improved.

Unionville Jets will probably be the opposition on Friday, Oct. 31 and Fergus Juniors may come later. The Bears expected to hit the road for a game this week as well. There's no lack of opposition but most of the clubs don't want a return game, especially those from the bigger centres, as exhibitions don't draw. The Bears management, while realizing the club needs conditioning and tough opposition, have to balance the budget, as the crowds in North York are generally late starters to the wicket. There were over 400 fans at the game on Friday, a most satisfying figure for so early.

Grouping is up in the air yet but as we get it from what seems an inside source, Midland and Collingwood of the "C" series will be grouped with Aurora, and added to that will be Owen Sound Greys, Barrie Colts and Orillia all of whom will rate "B". A schedule that embraces all these clubs should draw well at the gate, and the travelling is about as close as you'll get these days. If the Bears can hold their own in that company, or if they can win the "C" section there won't be anything to stop them in the Province. A definite announcement will be made soon, Dr. Smith of Collingwood is now a member of the O.H.A. executive and will likely be named as Group Convener.

Bradford Celery Kings howed out of the O.H.A. intermediate "C" race but enjoyed a good season and will be back bigger and better than ever next year with Charlie Rowntree at the helm. A salute to the following lads for their pleasing efforts and the thrills supplied: Ted Bulpit, Ray Castator, Son Rowntree, Harvey Mashinter, Charlie Mashinter, Bob Hanna, Harold Gwyn, Perry Standeven, Bruce Collings, Roy Collings, Keith Collings, Tom Collings, Bob Fallis, Scotty Johnston, (and any others we've missed). Bradford incidentally had a team in the Pee-Wee series at Brampton, and next year will likely have a minor team.

Around the Mulberry bush: As we told you months ago Wally Stanowski would retire from the monied ranks. Wally has signed with Lyndhursts of the East York mercantile and senior "B" circuit. Flash Hollett, ex-big leaguer and one-time Keswick softballer, will coach the junior "B" club that will operate out of Dixie arena.

Aub Holmes was well pleased with the showing of his St. Andrews College club on Saturday as it squeezed by them with a touchdown margin. The Andrews were given little chance at the start of the year but have come along great guns. They gave the Etobicoke Rams a scare in an exhibition game and with any luck on Saturday, would at least have had a tie. Incidentally, John Loblaw, Aurora, who didn't play on Saturday looks like one of the best on the club. Big game of the year will be on Saturday, Nov. 1 when Upper Canada will visit the Aurora school.

John Russell won the Dawson Memorial trophy at Aurora Highlands last week. It's for golfers over 45 and his opponent in the finals was named "Goodenough", who has been until then. Alliston High, one of the smallest schools of the district loomed as giant killers on the grid iron as they were still scheduled to meet Peterborough C.I. for the right to represent Central Ontario in the big Red Feather Tournament at Toronto on the weekend. Alliston bowled over Aurora, Collingwood, Barrie, Orillia and Midland in its victory parade. It's a bit too much to expect them to take the Peles but it would be the biggest boost in years for district secondary football if they did.

Friday afternoon the purple and gold of Newmarket High will be seen against the double blue of Aurora at Aurora in the second game of first round Georgian Bay - Cossa Playdown. If a third game is necessary it will be played back in Aurora on Monday, Oct. 27.

Al Shewchuk who for the past two years has been playing coach of Newmarket Spits and a favorite with the fans, has moved over to Orillia Terriers this winter. The advent of Harry Morrison meant the passing of Shewchuk as the paydirt for any player can't be as deep as for coach. We wish Al luck in his new spot and there's no doubt that his presence will strengthen Orillia who are in the big senior "B" group. Most of last year's players: Gander Ross, Jack Dyle, Ab Bowen, Jack Davidson, Clary Payne, Pud Hammond, Hank Pearsall, Red Gordon, Walt Varty and Earl McCrone, former Richmond Hill player are back again.

In addition to Shewchuk are Lloyd Pearsall, Barrie, last year with Montreal Nationals, Bruno "Red" Favero, former Barrie Flyer, last year with Charlotte-town abbies, Johnny Wood of South Porcupine, Danny McDonald, Barrie Flyers, Walt Long, Barrie and Bobby Burrell formerly of St. Catharines. A new goalie is being sought. Jack Dyle and Shewchuk will likely handle the club. The Orillia club should be able to hold its own with the opposition as they played in-and-out hockey last winter but at times looked as good as any in the group. This year they will have depth as well as better playing material. The group gets under way next week.

Terry Niccoli popular Newmarket Camp athlete and leading scorer of the North York mercantile league in '46 has been named as captain of the St. Greyhounds who are seeking the N.O.H.A. championship with a rejuvenated club. John Ough, former Aurora boy, and Fred Norris another ex-Auroran who resides in Barrie, were members of the Barrie Kiwanis Club golf team which took district Kiwanis honors at Cullen Field, Guelph, not long ago. Freddie will be remembered for his softball playing in the early 40's by most sport fans.

SKATE EXCHANGE

An exchange of figure and hockey skates was operated at the Newmarket Memorial arena on Saturday, Oct. 11, under the auspices of the Newmarket Figure Skating club. Close to 50 pairs of skates were sold. The club retained 25 cents from each sale. A list of those having skates to sell with owner's name, size of skates and price asked was retained by the convener, Mrs. Howard Morton.

Newmarket Boys Aid Celery King's Victory

The Celery Kings, Bradford's representatives in the O.H.A. intermediate C lacrosse race reached the north group finals before being dropped by the wayside. Two Newmarket gutted stick toters, Harold Gwyn and big rugged Bob Hanna were season long scoring leaders with the Kings. A third Newmarketer, Elgin Hanna, was team manager. The Celery Kings staged a bitter struggle for group honors with Brooklin Dodgers. After losing the first game to Brooklin, Bradford roared back at home a week ago to down the Dodgers 9-6, thanks to the scoring know-how of Harold Gwyn and Bob Hanna; they both potted two goals apiece.

The Bradford win forced a third and deciding game. Harold Gwyn, with three and Bob Hanna with two goals, were again the Celery Kings' scoring pace-setters. Son Rowntree and Ray Castator were Bradford's other top snipers in the playoff series.

Charlie Rowntree, the Woodbridge squire, was the coach of the team. Two Oak Ridges boys, Charlie and Harvey Mashinter, were season-long regulars with the Celery men. The Collings clan was well represented on the roster with brothers, Mutt, Keith and Bruce and a cousin, Tommy Collings, carrying the mail. Quite a number of Newmarket fans were regular patrons of the Celery Kings' home games.

BADMINTON CLUB TO MEET

Anyone with a hockey stick or a pair of skates may lead you to believe that hockey is Canada's major indoor winter sport, don't you believe it as a matter of fact badminton is. Newmarket Badminton club, who help to keep the racquet wielders in the forefront in this respect, will organize for the coming season, Monday, Oct. 27.

The meeting is being held at the Newmarket high school and is scheduled for 8 p.m. Election of officers and the business of organizing for another big year are on the agenda. High school gym has been secured for Monday and Wednesday nights of each week during the winter. Everyone interested in playing badminton, old hands and newcomers, are asked to be present.

Town Regents To Organize Tonight

The Newmarket Town Regents hockey team, destined to see action in the Newmarket and District Hockey league against Mount Albert, Vardorf and Kettleby, will hold its organization meeting tonight, Thursday, Oct. 23, in the Newmarket arena at 8 p.m. All players and fans interested in seeing a strong Regent representative in the town league are asked to be on hand. It is planned to name an executive and coach for the team and to schedule practices at this meeting.

See Spits Show New Look

Spitfires are working. Seven-teen candidates reported to coach Harry Morrison for the initial scrimmage Sunday. There was a liberal sprinkling of familiar faces.

Old hands back were netminder Bill Grant, Joe Tunney's understudy last term, regular defense-men Ross Hochberg and Al Shewchuk, both looking fit and ready, and forwards Don Smith, Ken Broughton, Bill Patrick, Ortle Thoms, Don Gibson and Grant Firth.

The "new look" marshalled by coach Harry Morrison drew the greatest attention from the assembled viewers and consisted of net custodians Alan "Fink" Chard, Jack Watson, defense-men Bill Caines, Zep Thompson and front liner Joe Zabo. The latter pair immediately caught the eye of the rail-birds and should strengthen the Spits, if they stay on in their impending inter-mediate A struggles.

Aurora Bear's graduates centerman Keith Colling, Bradford and defenseman Grant Winters, Aurora both impressed and along with Mount Albert's Dave Couch, should make all hands hustle for a playing slot.

Absentee regulars from last year's Spitfire edition were forwards Myles McNelis, Ken Thoms, Swiftly Todd, Bill Johnston, rear-guard Jack Andrews and Fink Tunstead and shot blocker Joe Tunney. The latter has definitely hung up his gear.

Myles McNelis, Jack Andrews and Bill Johnston are expected to show but the status of three other ex-hands hasn't been revealed as yet.

D. J. "Dovey" Kuhns is manager, Mickey Smith, Asst. manager. Harry Morrison is the new coach appointed during the summer. George Byers heads the club executive, Frank Johnston, vice-pres., Frank Courtney, sec-treas. and executive members Leo Cull, Eddie Gibson, Frank Bowser, Early Ruthven and D. J. Kuhns. A pair of Petes, Dill-man and Preston are on the job in a trainer capacity.

Group talk centered around a five team set-up composed of Newmarket, Collingwood, Mid-land, Brampton and Georgetown but on that O.H.A. will have the last word.

Aurora Bears Lose First to Weston, 6-0

Andy Closs, Charlie Rowntree and the Aurora Bears officially launched the hockey season last Friday. They lost 6-0 to Weston Dukes. No disgrace mind you as the Dukes were last year's O.H.A. junior B crown wearers.

The rascals started early and kept going high voltage all the way, the sin bin was seldom empty. Final rundown showed 34 penalties, good for 134 minutes of sin bin slumming and included two out of game sentences, four 10-minute misconducts, eight major five-minute throws and assorted minor misdemeanors.

Though the Closs-Rowntree kiddies came off second best in the vital counting column they held their own with the big Weston roughies in the swing and swat department. Nobby Ash, top candidate for a Bears' wing-line post, was the only casualty.

Weston goals were picked up—three in the first, two in the second and one in the third—by Bob Butler, Bill Humphries, Art Fitkin, Jim Cresswell, Charles Burns and Bob Forhan. Bob, of course, was Bearman last season.

Coach Rowntree flung his whole bench strength at the Dukes. Ron Brown, Wally Rhodes and Joe Burke were net minders. Defensively he played Walt Fines and Jim Patton, Andy Closs Jr. and Bob Hanna and Bob Fallis, a Bradford hand. Walt Fines was particularly effective in the heavy going with Jr. Closs close behind.

Bill Smith, Newmarket, gift, centered the starting line with Pepper Martin and Nobby Ash flankers. Joe Gasko, getting good ice mileage, set up the plays for Bobbs Cook and Grant Edwards. Coach Rowntree shuffled Tom Collings, Jeff Halder, Jack Staley and Freeman West in a try for a third line.

RANGERS TACKLE BEARS

Andy Closs of the Aurora Bears has booked in another stellar hockey attraction for the Aurora arena tomorrow, Friday evening.

Scarboro Rangers, who hold a Junior B rating with the O.H.A., will be the visitors on hand to take a slap at the Bears. Game time is 8.30 p.m.

The Bears fanned on their chance to get the season away at a winning goit last Friday but will be out to snag a win tomorrow night, reports Coach Charlie Rowntree. Coach Rowntree also hopes to have several new recruits on hand.

NORTH YORK INT. LEAGUE?

Is anyone interested in the re-organization of the Trotley League or a North York Intermediate hockey league modelled along the lines of the North York playoff series last spring? Roy Usher prominent Woodbridge sportsman asks the question.

Woodbridge is ready and looking for opposition in league of this type. It will be recalled Woodbridge won the North York championship last spring in competition with all-star teams from Aurora Town League, Peel-York League, Newmarket and District and Woodbridge Bush leagues.

Well hockey men at Aurora, Newmarket, Bradford, Sutton, Keswick and Stouffville what do you say?

N.H.S. Defeats Aurora 11-6

Fred Speers' N.H.S. gridders, like the light brigade of old, were supposed to charge into the valley of death Tuesday to be skinned alive by Frank Gregoire's heavier set Aurora double-blues. However, history did not repeat. The Speers' band substituting grit and determination for pound-age, seeing they couldn't go through the opposition, went over them into the air to register an 11-6 triumph.

The game was the opener in a best of three series for the North York secondary schools football supremacy. Game two goes at Aurora Friday. Don Budd's diving catch two yards inside the Aurora end zone of a 25-yard forward pass by quarter Neil Tate in the fourth quarter provided Newmarket's winning blow. That touchdown strike broke a 6-all stalemate in existence to that point.

The purple and gold fast step-pers had the chance of a lifetime to go ahead early as they drove inside the Aurora ten yard line. The strong Aurora line—visitors' biggest asset on the day's play—buffaloed three desperate N.H.S. attempts to crack it and it wasn't until the second quarter that the N.H.S. got dividends by going into the stratosphere as Neil Tate looped a 12-yard TD pass to Delwyn Creed. Laurie VanZant's educated hoof made the convert good to earn the N.H.S. a 6-0 half time advantage.

Early in the second half Gregoire's boys relentlessly pushed Newmarket back into the shadow of their goal and Ron Geddes culminated the drive by snaking 25 yards for an Aurora major. Don Busby's talented toe made the convert good and it was a 6-all ball game. Newmarket broke that tie as aforesaid with their fourth quarter aerial offensive.

Newmarket's best yardage got-ter on the ground was penalties. The double-blue was set back time after time for roughing, no yard and illegal interference.

Taylor Gilbert, one of those "tryin' till he's dyin'" football-ers, inspired the Speers platoon with his tackling and ball lugging before he was rendered hors de combat in the third quarter. Yeoman workhorses in N.H.S. camp were Bill Bannister, Alastair Sinclair, Neil Tate and Grant Morton, but for that matter every lad gave his all.

Visitors' tops were Ron Geddes, Lynn Easterbrook, Don Busby and Al Dawson. The latter, greased lightning carrying the ball, was the thorn in the N.H.S. side all afternoon and was harder to stop than an express train. At that, the rest of the crew rated an E for effort on Coach Frank Gregoire's report card. You can bet the twin Blues will be "up" to even the series Friday.

Aurora: K. Kincaid, A. Dawson, R. Geddes, L. Easterbrook, D. Morning, T. McClenny, B. Andrews, J. Crysdale, D. Harrison, B. McCaheen, M. Lawlor, J. Jans, J. Urquhart, J. Preston, D. Busby, W. Case, M. Ethridge, R. Brooks, E. Kusman, B. Brown, R. Fortier, J. Hodgkinson, T. Rogers, J. Hoshel, J. Howey, E. Lethian, L. Comfort.

Newmarket: N. Tate, D. Budd, T. Gilbert, A. Sinclair, R. Lockhart, G. Morton, L. VanZant, P. Widdifield, W. Townsley, F. Ben-nitz, W. Bannister, R. Dick, P. Hillaby, R. Groves, A. Horner, M. Gillespie, B. Townsley, R. Beckett, A. Gibney, G. Keffer, D. Creed, T. Carter, J. Sine.

N.H.S. Jr. Gridders Divide First Pair

Geo. McNelly's N.H.S. junior gridiron brigade boast a 500 bat-ting average to date this season. They lost to Alliston 17-3 as Laurie VanZant's goal staved off a shut-out in their initial test at Alliston. Last week the Mc-Nelly men recorded a 6-5 win over Pickering College seconds.

Grant Morton's touch down strike in the second quarter on a two yard quarter back sneak provided the N.H.S.'s big stake in the win. Laurie VanZant kicked the convert for what proved to be the winning point.

Pat Alexander picked up a fumble 15 yards out to pound over the N.H.S. goal-line for Pickering's major. The convert attempt, a failure, left Pickering 6-5, trail-ers.

Broken field yard gaining strikes by half Bill Bannister and flying wing Ron Beckett and steady booting by Laurie VanZant featured the winners' offensive.

Curlers To Oranize

A meeting to organize New-market rinks for the Bradford Curling club will be held at the Legion hall, Newmarket, on Tuesday, Oct. 28, at 8 p.m. If you're interested in curling this winter make a date to attend. Judging from the good old days when curling flourished at the old rink and later in the To-ronto and York radial barns, there should be quite a number of curlers in and around New-market.

Here's your chance to get back in the roaring game. Last win-ter a number of hub-curlers headed by Alan McNabb, Ken Silver and John Maenab were members of the Bradford Curl-ing club. There were no purely Newmarket rinks. This year it is planned to organize Newmar-ket rinks for competition against Bradford, Aurora, Beeton, etc., rinks at the Bradford Curling rink.

THE Calvert SPORTS COLUMN

by Elmer Ferguson

This is the story of the little girl who slept.

Her name is Gladys Jeannie Priestly, a swimmer from the suburbs of Montreal, youngest athlete ever to make a Canadian Olympic team, for Gladys was only 14 years old when she was named to carry Canada's colors into the Helsinki tank.

She didn't win anything there, but Olympic officials will recall for a long time the calm approach of this pretty miss to the Olympic selections.

It was the night the Canadian Olympic selection committee was making the final choices for the Olympic teams. The swimmers and track field athletes paced their hotel corridors or drank coffee in order to stay awake and hear the choices. But Jeannie went home and fell fast asleep.

Shortly after three o'clock in the morning, results of the swimming committees meeting were announced, with Jeannie winning a berth on the four member girls' team. Coach Malcolm Ross thought she would be overjoyed to hear the news. He awakened her, but Jeannie merely murmured "Izzat so?" and fell back into slumber.

One of the youngest swimmers ever to compete in the Olympic was Jeannie. Though she had turned 14 only a few days before the three-day title meet at Toronto from which Olympic selections emerged, she splashed to four junior Canadian records in three free-style events. In the 200-yard free style she set a new national mark in the afternoon heats and then broke that record again in the finals at night.

Her time in the 100-yards free style and 300-yards free style were faster than the Senior records. Since returning, she has smashed several Quebec provincial tank marks, and won the Canadian National Exhibition 100-yards free style, defeating Joan Campbell who was right up with the leaders of the women's 3-mile professional swim shortly before.

The youngest daughter of Verdun police captain Ray Priestly is a swim natural since she was paddling in the water by herself at one year old and while competing in a tots' meet at the age of ten she was spotted by Malcolm Ross who asked her parents if he could train her.

Train her he did, but aquatic students will tell you that 10 years is a ripe old age to start on a swimming career. By then, say experts, the swimmer has missed the championship boat. A little girl from India, named Saha, competed at the Olympics and she was only 12. Barbara Stark of Berkeley, Cal., was the youngest American at the Olympics and she had reached the ripe old age of 15.

Your comments and suggestions for this column will be welcomed by Elmer Ferguson, c/o Calvert House, 431 Yonge St., Toronto.

Mayer And Reeves Kept Off Program To Reduce Talking Is Explanation Of Chairman

On Wednesday morning, October 15, Dr. G. W. Williams called at our office to talk to us in connection with the news item dealing with the disregard of Mayor Rose at the District High school proceedings, which we reported in our issue of October 9. We promised Dr. Williams that we would duly report what he had to say.

Perhaps we should point out that we could not report this last week for the reason that the deadline for news, reports and articles for Aurora News Page is 12 o'clock noon, Tuesday. The same deadline applies to advertising for our pages.

Dr. Williams was anxious that it should be made known to our readers that no slight was intended for Mayor Rose. He stated that the inclusion of his name had been considered by the committee, as well as the names of the Reeves of King and Whitchurch townships.

The governing factor in the arrangements, said the chairman of the District High School, was the question of time. Had more speakers been added to the list, the proceedings would have been unduly prolonged, to the disadvantage of those who wished to avail themselves of an inspection of the school. For that reason, Dr. Williams said, the committee felt the wisest course would be to preclude additional names from the program and treat Dr. Rose and the Reeves alike.

Treated All Alike

It is but fair to Dr. Williams to state that when he called on us he asked that his name be not mentioned as the authority of the statement he wished us to publish, and which we promised we would do, but when we saw a copy of the smaller periodical circulating in town and which is printed at Brampton, we called Dr. Williams on the phone.

We called the chairman to point out that while he had asked us not to mention his name, a long statement under his name had appeared in the smaller periodical. We pointed out the unfairness of such procedure and requested that the statement be had given us to publish be similarly given under his name. Dr. Williams then acceded to our request.

We have reported what he asked us to publish; in substance that no slight was intended for Mayor Rose and that he and the two Reeves had all been treated alike. Certainly they were "all treated alike," and in our opinion and in the opinions of others, they were treated with scant courtesy, having regard to their positions in their municipalities. We did not leave any doubt in Dr. Williams' mind that we did not agree with the procedure that had been followed, although we were glad to have the explanation given us on behalf of the organizing committee which drew up the program.

Unfortunate Omissions

The concern which Dr. Williams and others have revealed in connection with the unfortunate omissions from the program clearly suggests an acute appreciation on their part of public reactions to the whole matter. Else why would they bother to explain? If the complaints we reported were "childish, silly, petty and untrue," according to Dr. Williams' reported statement in the smaller periodical, why have they aroused so much attention from himself and another member of the committee?

Dr. Williams is reported as saying that the program planners did not want the program to be "boring." Speech-making continued from 8.20 to 10.20, less some brief musical interludes. Quite a lot of talking, wasn't it? Yet Mayor Rose and the two Reeves weren't allowed in for even as much as five minutes each.

Better pull down the curtain on an unfortunate episode! But the reactions to our just complaints did help to fill up considerable space in the pages of the smaller periodical. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody any good."

"Go West, Young Man"

That is precisely what Mr. William Dunning did on August 5, going as far as Vancouver and Seattle. He made the journey outward and homeward by Gray bus and Greyhound service and enjoyed every mile of it. He arrived home on October 11 and two or three evenings later we found him happily ensconced on a stool at the soda fountain in the Willis drug store.

Mr. Dunning was enthusiastic over his trip and his conversation resembled a travelogue. He rattled off a long list of towns and cities he had visited in his itinerary; a list much too long for us to enumerate herein. But one of the places we must mention since it is a town where a weekly newspaper is published which won the David Williams trophy for the best editorial page, an honor won this year again by the Era and Express. The Pentticon Herald, published in Pentticon, B.C., won the trophy in 1939, 1942 and again in 1944. The Era and Express has won it twice.

On his tour Mr. Dunning renewed acquaintanceship with a considerable number of former Aurorans, among whom he mentioned the following: James McCloskey now of Winnipeg; Mr. and Mrs. Win Dodd, Craik, Sask.; Gordon Pitt, Calder Bank, Sask.; Frank Love, Winnipeg; Thornton Graham, Edmonton; Mrs. Ben Andrews (a sister of Mrs. Charles Webster), Winnipeg; Neil McInven, Haniton, Manitoba; and Joe Billings, Carman, Manitoba.

Mr. Dunning paid tribute to the skilful and careful drivers employed by the bus lines, saying that they had need for such qualifications in view of the narrow winding roads, with mountainous ridges on the one hand and deep gorges and rivers on the other. At many points the roads were so narrow that cars had barely room to pass each other, and these were "hair-raising moments," he admitted.

Altogether it was a colorful story he related and we wish we had space for more of it.

Notable Old-Timers

We listened attentively the other day while two well-known Aurora old-timers reminisced on other Aurora old-timers, some of whom have gone the way of all mortal flesh. They were Mr. Archie Murray and Mr. H. M. McKenzie, lately retired manager of the Imperial bank in Aurora.

Mr. McKenzie assured us he was thoroughly enjoying the freedom of retirement after a service of 42 years with the Imperial. He admitted that he missed the daily routine of office for a time but has now become acclimatized to release from the "care of office." It is his intention to go south later in the year.

He certainly looks in the pink of condition, and we wish him many years of happy retirement. With his family and numerous friends in Aurora, he feels his home is here for sure. Besides his long association with the Imperial he spent some former years with two other banks.

Turning to Mr. Murray, Mr. McKenzie said: "You look just the same as you did 20 years ago." Mr. Murray and Mrs. Murray have only recently returned to their apartment at the Queen's hotel after spending three months at their summer home at Belmont Lake. They have had a thoroughly enjoyable vacation. It is doubtful if they will go to Florida this year.

Mr. Murray continues to take a keen interest in public affairs in Aurora. For several years he was a member of the town council and was reeve during the mayoralty of the late J. M. Walton and again when the late P. M. Thompson was mayor. A deputy-reeve during those years was the late Clifford Case.

The record held for municipal representation in Aurora was that of the late W. J. Knowles. In over 30 years he never suffered a defeat in any municipal contest, serving as councillor, reeve, mayor, and as warden of York County. He was warden in the year 1916, since which date he has had no successor in that office from Aurora.

A Curious Story!

A curious story was rippling around on Main street last week to the effect that four members of the Arena board, Messrs. Underhill, Cousins, Henderson and Stoddard had pulled up their stakes and resigned. While such a climax to months of controversy would have caused no surprise, this newspaper has not been able to confirm the report, which went into circulation on or about Thanksgiving Day, a somewhat appropriate date.

The old board has continued (Page 12, Column 5)

LOSS OF CONTROL

The powers held by local councils have decreased, not increased, during recent years. There has been a growth of central control, exercised by the provincial government. Some of this loss of local control has been deliberate; some of it has been inevitable, due to costs which a municipality could not carry without provincial aid.

The deliberate losses in local control have resulted from the election of men to council who did not fully appreciate the importance of local autonomy. There was a time, for example, when the local councils were the sole trustees of school expenditures. At one time it would not have been possible for a public school board to commit the municipality to expenditures without the consent of council.

In recent years school boards have assumed the right to plan without reference to council, not only to plan but to commit a municipality to expenditures without reference to council. A case in point was what happened in Aurora in the spring of 1950, when the budget was held up for two weeks for the reason that the public school board had bought land on Kennedy street west without the knowledge of council.

The budget had to be held over for the purpose of determining what the new mill rate would be in face of this unexpected development. Some members of council argued that there was no sense in deferring the budget since council was at the mercy of the public school board and would have to submit to its dictates. Eventually the council did submit to the new expenditure and the mill rate was increased from 48 to 50.

The 1950 council could have chosen the alternative of referring the matter to the municipal board if it felt that the expenditure was an unnecessary one. This is but one example of many where a council surrendered its authority without even putting up a fight for the people who elected it to power.

A TEST PIECE

Local controls that are frittered away through lack of appreciation of their value can be costly to a community. We have contended against the zoning by-law for the basic reason that it takes authority away from representatives elected by the citizens and places it in the hands of a non-elected and thus non-representative body. In essence such procedure is not democratic.

No sensible person would argue against planning. But there is a great difference between voluntary planning and fixed controls covering a period of many years. A flexible policy can be changed to meet changing circumstances. But a fixed plan, involving heavy financial penalties for those who infringe it, is neither democratic nor sensible.

We could go along with a planning board composed of individuals who take pride in their town and are willing to play the role of making suggestions to council where improvements could be made. But we cannot go along with a planning board that wishes to impose its own, separate decisions on the community. Still less could we go along with a planning board that is invested with powers derived from a zoning by-law, possessed of legal powers to exact fines from citizens.

A happy and a prosperous community is essentially a free community. It refers its local governmental problems to a body of men and women which it freely elects and rejects in its wisdom. It does not have to take orders from a group which it does not elect and which in turn takes its orders from a fixed set of rules drawn up from an outside authority.

In the one instance you have democratic government. In the other instance you have a sort of totalitarian over-lordship. The Aurora 1952 council has such a test piece before it in the case of the zoning by-law.

"COVER UP"

Some people do not like us for the reason that we refuse to "cover up" facts which we feel the citizens of Aurora should know. There are public men who would tell the people nothing if they could get away with it. They want office but not the publicity which should properly go along with it. They will lap up praise in plenty, but they must never be blamed for shortcomings in office.

What a man does in his private life is no business of ours or anyone else's. What he does, or fails to do, as a public representative is everyone's business. If he does well he is deserving of public commendation. If he does badly he ought not to cause a ballyhoo because he is called over the coals. He has taken office at his own wish. Nobody forced him to take it.

There is a type of public man who will tell you he was not keen on taking office, but did so because the council or others asked him to do so. When rightly criticized for faulty conduct in public office, or just plain downright failure, he squeals that he never wanted the job anyway. When you hear this sort of thing just wave a hand and cry "phooey!" No man can be forced into office against his will and inclinations. He can say "No" and mean it.

The right type of newspaper will examine the work of public men without fear or favor. That is its plain duty to its readers who depend on it for information on activities which generally touch their pockets. The right sort of newspaper certainly will not "cover up". This newspaper certainly won't do so.

COUNCIL REPORT

Charging Arena Board Fails Council Sets Joint Meeting: Town Clerk, Inspector Resign

Chairman Underhill, and members of the old arena board, having fallen down completely on arena problems and Mayor Rose and members of council generously decided to meet with them again in a joint session, it was decided at a meeting of council on Monday night, Oct. 20. Other outstanding business included the resignations of the town clerk and the building inspector.

The resignations of the town clerk, Ken G. Moses, and building inspector, George Cluff, were received at the correspondence stage of council proceedings. In the case of Mr. Moses it was pointed out that he had obtained a position of less responsibility at higher pay; Mr. Cluff indicated that the cause of his resignation was his impending departure from Aurora.

Council resolved to send a letter of appreciation to Mr. Cluff for services rendered to the town in his capacity as building inspector, a position he has held since September 1950. Reports

Reeve Cook reported on the Yonge Street improvement project, stating that the go-ahead had now been received and work was expected to begin immediately.

Councillor Jones, in a report from the Water committee, of which he is chairman, pointed out that certain discrepancies in water rates concerned with tourist homes would now be eliminated. Mr. Jones further stated that he was requesting a daily report from the water works employees, showing in detail the work carried out.

Deputy-reeve Murray, chairman of the Streets committee, presented a report in which it was stated that the contract for the Yonge street reconstruction and improvement undertaking had been given to Messrs. Curran and Briggs at a cost of $54,778.

Some discussion arose on the question of installing a culvert by the entrance of the road leading to the Cut-Up Chicken property, Councillor Tucker drawing attention to the doubt whether the responsibility rested with the municipality of Aurora.

It was pointed out that Mr. Garfat, on behalf of the Cut-Up Chicken company, had undertaken to meet half of the cost of the work done. On a motion by Councillor Jones, it was finally agreed to pay half the cost of the work done, to be carried out by town employees.

In support of an application for the position of building inspector, become vacant through the resignation of Mr. Cluff, Mr. S. C. King, Mark St., made a personal appearance.

Following Mr. King's attendance on council, Councillors Corbett and Tucker took the view that the vacancy should be advertised in the Globe and Mail, and in the two local newspapers and this was agreed to.

Councillor D. J. Murray, chairman of the sports and publicity committee, initiated a further long discussion on arena problems, in which the relative responsibilities of council and the board came in for review.

Mr. Murray said there seemed some doubt on where responsibility began and ended, and in his own words, "where council ceases and the arena board comes in." Asking if council expected too much from the board, Mr. Murray added that "the trouble is that we are not getting anything." The situation, he said, "is quite a muddle."

Pointing out that the board had done nothing in response to a recent motion by council that the seating be made safe, Mr. Murray pointed out that during a hockey match that took place on Friday night, Oct. 17, the seating that had been declared unsafe was barricaded off.

Mayor Rose said that while it appeared that the chairman of the board had shown some willingness to accept responsibility, he had received "only a lukewarm support from other members of the board." In view of the hockey match, the mayor pointed out that he had given verbal permission for it to go on for that night only, although he had no real authority to cancel council's motion that the arena be closed to the public until the seating had been fixed.

Mayor Rose stated that the matter of what was to be done in the future would have to be left up to council. There were three rows of seats that were definitely considered unsafe, he said.

Other Opinions

Councillor Tucker said the board "had tried desperately hard" to get a contractor during the past month to fix the seats, but had failed to secure one.

Deputy-reeve Murray said he did not agree with the motion recently passed that the arena should be closed to the public. The risks, he said, were no worse than they had been over a considerable period. The deputy-reeve admitted that he was not sure that they were conforming with the fire marshal's regulations.

Councillor Corbett, speaking as chairman of the property committee, said "the rink is the arena board's baby." Speaking with considerable emphasis, Mr. Corbett asked: "Why don't they work with council? Council is not supposed to go to the arena board; the board should come to council."

Continuing, Mr. Corbett said that the board should have obtained estimates for the work that needed to be done and brought them to council. Repeating his former question, Councillor Corbett asked: "Why can't they come in to council?"

Mayor Rose said the chairman seemed willing to accept responsibility, but other members wouldn't.

Reeve Cook said that Councillor Corbett had correctly summed things up. It would be out of place for council to interfere with the board's work. He was not, however, of the opinion that things were as serious as they had been made to appear.

Councillor D. J. Murray said the board had left it until September until they began to talk, although all these problems had been before them since the month of April. It was council's duty to see that the arena board did its job. Council was the boss. It was elected by the people, but that was not the case with the board.

Councillor Davis said that the rink was the arena board's responsibility and for that reason he considered council was out of order in passing a motion that the arena be closed to the public.

Rescind Motion

Councillor Jones repeated his former views that the rink was the business of the arena board. He said he had been chairman of the Property committee for four or five years and as such he had never interfered with the work of the board. For such reasons he thought a lot of the talk they had had to listen to was "foolish" and out of place.

The board was appointed by council to look after the rink. Councillor King emphatically rejected the suggestion that the motion to close the arena to the public until it was made safe was out of order. The motion was passed, said Mr. King, to get the necessary work done.

Councillor Murray said the board hadn't done what council requested it to do. Why, therefore, should nine sensible men go back on the motion they had passed?

Deputy-reeve Murray and Councillor Tucker argued in favor of motion being rescinded. Mayor Rose suggested that the best course would be to ask the arena board to attend another joint meeting with council and try to get things straightened out. He thought they could meet in a friendly spirit for such a purpose.

Councillor Tucker said he thoroughly approved of the mayor's suggestion that council and the board get together again at the earliest possible date, it being finally resolved to rescind the former motion and a get-together take place on Monday evening, Oct. 27.

On a motion by Councillor

Elgin Evans

The first impression one gets of Elgin Evans is energy! He is a sort of human dynamo radiating enthusiasm and speed. You have the feeling that you must try and "keep up with him". He thinks quickly, speaks quickly, and acts quickly. He is a bundle of irrepressible vitality walking around on two legs. His personal slogan is: "Speed and Thoroughness"; and the slogan truly represents the man.

Elgin knows what he wants and where he is going. His movements are not haphazard. He has made his plans before he acts. He is not the man to "jump into things." With enthusiasm he combines a natural shrewdness. His decisions are not the result of guess-work; they are the outcome of pretty hard thinking and careful calculation.

There is a type of person whose aim is being what is called "a big shot." He hustles and hustles and talks in a big way. He jumps around like "a cat on hot bricks." If he does not think big he certainly talks big. He is the sort of man who thumps his desk and tells you he'll make a million dollars in the next five years. That man is afflicted with a disease known to psychiatrists as "wind on the cerebrum." He is fated for a fall.

On a motion by Councillor King, seconded by Deputy-reeve Murray, the contentious zoning by-law was given a first reading by the clerk, after which no further steps were taken with it. Councillor Corbett said he had "read it and read it and read it, and still couldn't understand it." On the question of the town clerk's resignation, Councillor Murray said council now found itself in a mess, with no one trained to take over the job.

Asked if he had any comments to make on his resignation, Mr. Moses said it was merely a question of his having obtained a job with less responsibility and more money. Council adjourned at 11.45 p.m.

(A review of the foregoing proceedings will appear in "Council Sidelines" in next week's issue of Aurora News Page. Ed.).

Elgin attended Snowball school and at 14 years of age began work in a saw-mill. To get to and from his work he had to walk three miles each morning and night. He was paid 75 cents per day from which sum 25 cents went on his daily dinner. At 18 years of age he was operating his own mill and thrasher, and between mill jobs he apprenticed himself to the trade of a builder.

In 1915 he married Miss Jennie Haines, daughter of the late (Page 12, Column 1)

William and Emily Haines, Glenville, the best stroke of good fortune that has come his way, Mr. Evans will tell you. To his wife's devotion and guidance Elgin attributes all the later business success and happiness he has experienced.

Business Ventures

After his marriage he operated a farm at Davis Corners, in conjunction with lumbering, which he manufactured at various points in York county. In the first World War he manufactured lumber for the construction of airplane hangers. For some years he lived in Aurora, in a home which he built on Wellington St. and is now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Corner.

In 1922, in order to get the quality of timber he needed, Mr. Evans bought the Sterling property, situated two miles north east of Newmarket on Sharon highway, East Gwillimbury, reputed to contain one of the finest stands of old timber in the countryside.

In 1946 he quit moving his mill from place to place, setting up a stationary one, with planer and five new homes on the same trimmers included. He built farm, four semi-bungalows and one duplex.

In 1949 Mr. Evans opened up a 30-acre subdivision known as "Evanslea", and during the present year he has opened up a two-and-a-half acre subdivision. In all there are 80 lots; 25 homes have been sold, and a number of new homes are being built.

Honored by Church

Among his many other activities, Elgin is active in boys' work. He is chairman of the North York Boys' Work Board, and trustee of the camp property at Camp Ashungyong, Duquesne Point, Lake Simcoe. In 1951 over 700 boys and girls enjoyed the camp facilities.

He is a member of Trinity United church, Newmarket, an elder and trustee and also representative to Centre Presbyterian, Toronto. When the Newmarket congregation undertook to build a new parsonage, Elgin was appointed chairman of the building committee, and by his untiring efforts one of the finest and most up-to-date parsonages in the Toronto area was erected. He was recently honored by being appointed a commissioner to the general council of the United church of Canada.

Mr. Evans is fond of hunting and fishing. In his youth he was a keen soccer player and still follows the sport. He is a member of the Aurora Hunt club and president of the Franklin trout club. On August 11 last he celebrated his 60th birthday. But that is only a date on the calendar, for Elgin enjoys fine health and looks around the 50 mark.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans now reside in their lovely summer home on Lake Simcoe highway, two miles out of Newmarket. Aurora News Page takes very great pleasure in wishing them both many more years of happiness in the good fortune they have won for themselves.

A REPLY TO CRITICISMS

To Pass The Zoning By-Law Would Be Betrayal Of Trust: Newspaper Of Free Opinions

Due to health reasons, we were unable to attend the further joint meeting of council and the planning board which was held on Tuesday night, October 14. In our absence considerable attention appears to have been given our editorial, entitled, "Not For Aurora", which appeared in our issue of October 9, in which we argued against the passing into law of the contentious zoning by-law.

Not only our editorial, but the editorial on the Era and Express page entitled, "Need For Planning", came in for a reading by Dr. Boulding. "Considerable amusement" was "engendered" by the reading of the two editorials, which reported these proceedings in its issue of last week, for alleged differences in editorial opinion.

It must have felt that it had discovered a news scoop of rare value, for not only did it report these proceedings in apparent detail, but it quacked away on its editorial page in the manner of an old goose that had been waddling the dry and dusty highway for a long time and suddenly flapped its wings in loud satisfaction at the sight of a pond by the wayside.

Reasons For Existence

In its editorial the smaller periodical does, however, make this acknowledgment of our services to Aurora, and we accept the tribute with the due humility the occasion deserves. Here is its acknowledgment: "There should, of course, be an expression of gratitude to a paper published in another town for its keen interest in Aurora affairs."

Aurora News Page, which is an independent publication, containing its own news and opinions, is printed at Newmarket. Its rival, the smaller periodical circulating in Aurora, is printed at Brampton. On those two counts we can call it quits. On other counts we have good reasons for our existence. We pay office rent, and taxes to the town of Aurora for the use of our office. We maintain a home in Aurora and pay rent to an Aurora landlord. We support a wife and buy our food and clothing in Aurora.

The above are reasonable reasons in support of our continuing to live in a town which we like. Another reason is that we conduct Aurora News Page, which a lot of people like and support. Is the smaller periodical in a better position as regards good reasons for its existence here? It prattles on the subject of the goose and the gander. An appropriate question is: Which is the goose and which the gander?

Two Editorials
The editorial which appeared in the Era and Express on October 9, entitled "Need For Planning", was in no way concerned with the subject-matter of our own editorial appearing in Aurora News Page of the same date, entitled "Not For Aurora". The first editorial dealt in general terms with the need for planning, a need which we have always supported.

Our own editorial dealt with the imposition of a zoning by-law on the municipality of Aurora, which in practice is a restriction on the rights of property owners and citizens. While it has supported the need for planning, the Era and Express has never at any time supported the imposition of a zoning by-law on the municipality of Newmarket. The Era and Express supports the liberty of the subject. The Era and Express supports a liberal, not a totalitarian policy.

There is a world of difference between a planning board that is content with making suggestions to council for improvements to the town in which it operates and a planning board which seeks to assume control of town properties and the disposition of its land, industries and business interests.

Why should the control of property in the town of Aurora be taken out of the hands of council, which is elected by the people and is responsible to them, and placed in the authority of a group of men over whom the electors have no control? That is not planning; it is autocracy. That is not government by the people; it is government by a clique.

If members of the Aurora town council were so ill-advised and so foolish as to pass the present zoning by-law they would be guilty of a betrayal of the people who elected them to office.

Some Pertinent Questions
We would like to know the reasons why Dr. Boulding and his board are so anxious to see the zoning by-law passed? It is full of vexatious clauses and restrictive conditions. Its language is obscure. To make head or tail of it is beyond the wit of ordinary men. It is a legal crossword puzzle for lawyers to wrangle over, while property owners hold the bag.

The town council has all the power necessary to run the town. It has the power to zone off areas for whatever future purposes are best suited for the town. There was the instance of the Standish subdivision on Kennedy street west. A large delegation of Kennedy street property owners (among whom Dr. Boulding was one) came to council and appealed against the proposal to build 18 homes.

After considerable discussion council agreed to meet the wishes of the Kennedy street delegation. This act of zoning was done by council, not by the planning board, and council's action was upheld by the Municipal Board. What council did then it can do now. Its powers have not lessened.

But they will be lessened if the present council were to pass the zoning by-law. In place of the rule of council, elected by the people, it would be rule by the planning board, which is not elected by the people. Aurora property owners and citizens would then be tied up as lightly as a victim in the tentacles of an octopus. They might try and free themselves by legal action. But legal action costs money, and once the zoning by-law is passed it is here to stay for 21 years or more.

Freedom Of Expression

The smaller periodical appears surprised that there should be a variety of opinions expressed in the Era and Express. Here is what its former managing editor wrote in his final contributions, as to the differences of opinion held by its writers: "It was no rare circumstance to find one opinion on the editorial page, the opposite in a column, and a second columnist damning the other two."

That policy will not be changed, for the Era and Express is a democratic newspaper capable of expounding many different views. It is not modelled to a fixed set of rules, like a military textbook. We do not consult with anyone as to what we shall write. Out of its own mouth the smaller periodical has now confirmed what we have repeatedly asserted, that Aurora News Page is a free and independent publication.

"good job", censured those who said it hadn't, and sought votes of confidence from time to time. The protests of Mayor Rose, Councillors Corbett and Murray were reinforced by Councillor Jones, who warned that portions of the seating were unsafe for public use. A motion was passed to the effect that the arena be closed until the seating was made safe.

This newspaper was attacked by the old board for publishing statements that have been proven true, up to the hilt. Ought it to have remained silent and generally let things slide until the time when, perhaps, the condemned portions of the seating collapsed, causing death or injury to those who were unaware of the risks they were taking? It is the duty of any worthwhile newspaper to publish material facts, not to suppress them. That course we have followed and will continue to follow. Encouraging Dramatics.

Owing to ear trouble and deafness arising from a chill, we were unable to attend a meeting of the recreation commission held on Thursday night, October 16. Mr. Harvey Bell, secretary-treasurer, tells us that an outstanding feature of the proceedings was an appeal for leaders to promote a dramatic club in Aurora. There is plenty of dramatic talent available. The problem is to find leaders and teachers to promote it.

Picture News from C-I-L

EXPLOSION IN MINIATURE! It happens frequently these days in the Montreal plant where Sabre jets are made. Worker is using explosive rivets on a wing section. Developed by the chemical industry to speed up riveting operations, especially in hard-to-get-at places, they contain a tiny explosive charge which fastens the rivet when fired.

SUPER-SOFTNESS is a "must" in everything that touches baby's tender skin. For bath-time, mothers find that C-I-L Cellophane Sponges are just the thing — wonderfully soft and absorbent. Available in smart colours — blue, green, coral, yellow and natural.

SWEETENING UP the air under sinks is done differently today. The modern homemaker's helper is the aerosol — a new type of package that dispenses deodorants, fly-sprays, paints, shave-cream just by pressing a button. "Froon" is the chemical propellant that makes this handy method possible.

Did you know?

C-I-L products are making mighty contributions to Canada's air defence. In addition to explosive rivets for the F-86E Sabre, chemicals, nylon, "Cellophane", play a vital role.

Ceremony at Mary Lake

On Sunday afternoon, over 1,000 people witnessed the dedication and official opening of Father Clement hall, the new extension to the retreat house at Mary Lake, north of King City, performed by His Eminence, Cardinal McGuigan, who blessed the edifice. Father Athanasius Pape, superior of the Augustinian Fathers, addressed the congregation, welcoming the cardinal and thanking the men for their support and help in putting up the building which has cost more than $200,000, including the furnishings.

The cardinal encouraged retreatment and spoke of the comfort and accommodation that the building affords. The benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was given by Very Rev. Father Tarcisus Rattler, assisted by Father O'Reilly of Coglan and Father Eagan, pastor of St. Ann's parish, Toronto. After the ceremony the guests were served coffee and cake.

The retreat house has accommodation for 50 laymen at one time. When the original part of the building was opened in 1943, there were 77 retreatants who came during that year. By 1951 there were about 1100. By the end of 1952 about 1,500 laymen will have taken retreat at Father Clement hall.

80th Anniversary
On Sunday, Nov. 9, Teston United church of the King circuit will hold its 80th anniversary with services appropriate to the occasion. The village of Teston, nestling in the lovely countryside, has a history, long and interesting.

A little over a hundred years ago, an Englishman, by the name of Thane emigrated to Canada from the village of Heysham, Lancashire, England. He built his home in the village. The house still stands, though it has undergone remodelling. The village at that time was called Thanesville. The village was given the name of Teston shortly after Confederation in 1867, and was so named after Teston in Kent, England, the birthplace of an early settler, a Mr. Chapman.

The church history began in a log building erected on the Teston sideland, in 1870, by the Wesleyan Methodists. The church was known as the Hadwen Chapel or Hadwen's appointment. At that time it was part of the Richmond Hill charge. Rev. Thomas Hadwen, a Wesleyan Methodist, who was ordained in the ministry in England, became its first minister. His descendants are still active in church work.

Some years later it was arranged that a new church be built on the present site, a part of the Isaac Murray farm which was given for this purpose. The new edifice was opened in 1872 and it is this 80th birthday which will be celebrated on November 9. From 1872 until 1882 Teston formed part of the Kleinburg charge when it was joined to Purpleville and Luskay to form a separate circuit. In 1893, with Luskay and King, it formed the King charge, a happy union still.

The church extends a cordial invitation to its friends to be present at the anniversary services which will be held at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Rev. Charles Murray, Leaside United church, will be the evening speaker, assisted by Woodbridge United church choir. A special minister will address the morning service, and a visiting soloist will sing.

Orators Delight Audience
When Rev. Robert Graham, Kettleby, Mrs. Kenneth Goodfellow of Nobleton and Miss Yvonne Hills, tenth line teacher, judged the public school oratorical contest held at Kettleby last week they were impressed with the selection of subject matter and its preparation, and the ability shown by the students of King township in presenting their addresses.

They commended on the timely topic delivered by Nancy Patton of King City school, when her address on Conservation gave her first place. "The study and practice of conservation is vitally important," said Mr. Graham.

"The Value of Courtesy", taken by Jessie Kemp, of King City, had a appeal in its treatment of people. Courtesy should be developed by public school scholars, as it is "one of the basic virtues of character," said the speaker.

Wearing her girl guide uniform, Margaret Donnelly, Oak Ridges school, gave an impressive talk on the aims, pledges, training and responsibility that the girl guide puts into effect, when she told "Why I am Proud to be a Girl Guide."

The girls received books as first, second and third prizes, and the remaining seven speakers were given cash donations, the gifts of trustee boards.

audience which comprised teachers and students of many schools, public school inspector, Mr. H. A. Galpin, parents and visitors. Mr. Wallace Bennett, president of the teachers' association, was chairman.

After the formal addresses each speaker was given the opportunity to make an impromptu speech, chosen from one of three subjects which he or she selected. Altogether there were six girls and four boys in the contest.

Shading Demonstration
Singing provided by Schomberg junior room, gave teachers and students a lesson on how to develop appreciation of pitch and tone, when King township public speaking was held at Kettleby United church. The children were directed by Miss Josephine Barton of Regton, music supervisor, and had been prepared for the demonstration by their teacher, Miss Faye Brown. The children were divided into groups, according to their singing ability. Each group sang, and united in a simple chorus. Miss Barton showed how the grades differed in quality of voice and how the monotonies can be fairly well developed to attain a pitch level within their medium.

Scouts' Paper Drive
First King scouts and cubs will collect waste paper on Saturday, Oct. 25. They will cover the village and surrounding neighborhood and ask that papers and magazines be tied in bundles ready for them to pick up. The troop and pack will meet at Langdon's at 9 a.m. and proceed from there.

With the resignation of Jack Hamby as assistant to cub mistress, Mrs. W. F. Hood, there is dire need of volunteers to help her carry on the work. Mrs. Hood requires permanent assistants in addition to someone to give instruction in simple handicrafts once a month. She has 14 wolf cubs and the organization is too important to be handicapped for lack of workers.

Scouts' Apple Day
The response for donations on Boy Scouts' and Cubs' Apple Day conducted last Saturday was satisfactory, contributions amounting to $79, one dollar in excess of the 1951 proceeds.

C.G.I.T. Formed
Miss Carol Norrad, Eversley school teacher, has formed a C.G.I.T. group of which she is the leader. There are six girls who belong and Margaret Moses is the president; Gillian Brown, sec-treas. A devotional and program committee is appointed weekly when meetings are held on Thursday after school. Rev. David Wetherpoon will visit the organization and encourage their activities. A craft will be taken up, that of making plaster paris plaques.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Davidson and their children, Rosemary and Heather, have moved to their beautiful new home, King St. W., Kingsview subdivision.

Miss Annie McBride had a few holidays a little time ago, which she spent in Toronto with Mrs. Agnes Thomson. She visited her sister, Hazel (Mrs. Bill Thomson), had dinner with her aunt, Miss Ella McBride.

Quilts Go to Korea
Four hand-pieced quilts will help distressed people of Korea, sent by the W.M.S. of Luskay United church. They will go out with supplies of clothing and comforts that the United church of Canada forwards to Korea.

It was 80-year-old Mrs. Peelar of Vaughan township who pieced the quilts for the Luskay society which met in the church basement recently to spend a day doing the quilting and binding. In an atmosphere of sociability the ladies took lunch for the noon meal. Mrs. William Boys, a veteran member of the organization, was there to help. A quilting bee is an annual project of the W.M.S. for the mission bales and Mrs. Peelar does her part in contributing to this important work. In addition, she made 54 aprons for the bazaar, sponsored by the W.A. of Emery United church held last Saturday afternoon. She lives with her son, Roy, 7th line in Vaughan.

Mrs. George Forester, Mrs. E. Bath, Miss Winnifred Boys, Mrs. Marshall McMurchy and her mother, Mrs. J. E. Ross, Mrs. L. Boys, Mrs. Louis Marwood, Mrs. Jas. Watson, Mrs. Glen Dooks, Mrs. Roy Peelar, Mrs. Jesse Bryson, Mrs. Verna Fletcher and Mrs. Wm. Bryson went to Emery, Vaughan township, on Saturday afternoon to attend a bazaar given by the United church.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Yeomanson and daughter, Norma Jean, of Uxbridge, were Sunday visitors of Mr. Peter Clark.

Mr. Reg. Cassells of Luskay was removed to Sunnybrook hospital on the advice of Dr. W. G. Grant. Mr. Cassell and his two brothers have lived at Luskay for the past five years or so and are interesting people to visit. Formerly they lived in Australia, and have interesting things to tell of that country. They are Englishmen, having lived in England in earlier

On the patio of Casa Loma after their recent marriage are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barnes. The bride was Miss Wilda Bernice Helen Webster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Webster, Kettleby, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barnes, Montreal. years. Neighbors say an evening in their home is very pleasant. One of the brothers plays the violin, the other the bass viola and the other the clarinet.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Williams of Gravenhurst spent Thanksgiving weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Greenwood, 4th concession, Mrs. Williams is a sister of Mrs. Greenwood.

Dr. W. G. Grant of King City has daily consultation hours in the village at the home of Miss Jessie Gellatly but has discontinued his time at Schomberg at the home of the late Dr. A. F. Kay. However he is able to assist Dr. M. K. Dillane when his services are required.

Mrs. R. V. Graham of Toronto, demonstrator of the Robin Hood Milling Co. cooking school, held in the village last week, found she had friends here. Mrs. Irving L. Scott, a member of the United church W.A., sponsors of the school, was very well acquainted with Mrs. Graham. They had worked together as W.A. workers in Don Mills United church, Toronto, when the Scotts lived in the city. Mrs. W. A. Brant, assistant to Mrs. Graham, was surprised to learn that her son, and Douglas Scott, attended the same public school in the city. The visiting demonstrators were entertained by Mrs. Scott after they had completed Thursday evening's cooking class.

Mrs. Wm. Popper of Hensall and her daughter, Mrs. Eugene Gonyou, of Detroit recently visited Mrs. Alfred Gillham, at Strange for a few days.

Friends of Miss Connie Winters of Angus and formerly of King City will be interested to learn she will be married on Monday, Nov. 3, to Corporal Kenneth McNeil of Cape Breton, the wedding to take place at Camp Borden. Connie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Winter. Her brother Dennis is a soldier in Korea.

Mrs. Percy Miller of St. Mary's was the guest of her friend, Mrs. Colin Stewart, for a week.

President of Teachers' Assoc.
Following the demonstration of public speaking given by pupils of some of the King township schools at Kettleby last week, a short period was devoted to the election of officers of King Township Teachers' Association, when Mr. Neil Lothian, the new principal of Oak Ridges school, became the president for 1952-53. Miss Faye Brown, Schomberg school, is sec-treas.

A.Y.F.A. Formed
On Sunday, Oct. 19, a group of 17 young people met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McInnes to plan the formation of an Anglican Young People's Association. Mr. Gordon Tetley was chosen chief advisor. Nominations were made and Bruce McInnes was elected president; Freda Dent, sec.; Ross Rawlings, treas., and Shirley Rawlings the social convener.

The first gathering of the new organization will be held next Sunday, when the young people will attend the Brian Green mission to be held in the Coliseum at Exhibition Park, Toronto. A special bus will be chartered and any others wishing to attend this meeting are cordially invited. Buses will leave All Saints' church at 8 p.m., Oct. 26.

Communion Breakfast
On Sunday, Oct. 19, 18 young people celebrated Youth Sunday by attending the eight o'clock communion service held in the Anglican church, followed by breakfast in the parish hall. Afterward, Mr. Arthur Thompson, a student of theology at Wycliffe College, and an assistant at St. Olives' church, Swansen, addressed the gathering.

On Sunday, Oct. 26, the annual church service for Robertson Masonic Lodge, King and district, will be held at King Anglican church at 10 a.m. Officers and members of the order will form a parade on this occasion. Rev. D. C. H. Michell, the rector, will preach.

Church Parade
In observance of Youth and Children's Sunday, First King scouts, cubs and brownies held a parade to All Saints' Anglican church on October 20, when Rev. D. C. H. Michell directed his sermon to the young people. He referred to the Trinity of God and the triple nature of man, as it embodies the spirit, the mind or heart and the material body. Boys and girls were reminded that Christ's words,

"I am the Way, the Truth and the Life" can be counted upon to help them with the decisions and problems, if they but think of these in the way the Master spoke.

Scout Master George Harvey and assistant master, Douglas Specht, accompanied the troupe, while Cub Mistress, Mrs. W. F. Hood, led the cubs. The flags were carried by Robin Walker and Fred Shields. Accompanying the Brownies were Brown Owl, Mrs. Don Laing, and Tawny Owl, Miss Faye Armstrong.

Buried at King

The remains of Mrs. Marie A. Garbe Simpson, 76, wife of Mr. Archie Simpson of Austin Ave., Toronto, were interred in the family plot in King City cemetery on Wednesday, Oct. 15. She passed away in the Queen Elizabeth hospital and the service was conducted at Ingram's funeral home in the city. The pallbearers were nephews by marriage, Edward and Wilfred Simpson of Aurora, Henry Gillham of King, and Howard Wood, Schomberg. Others who acted were from Toronto. The burial service at the cemetery was attended by local friends and relatives, as well as a number of persons from Toronto.

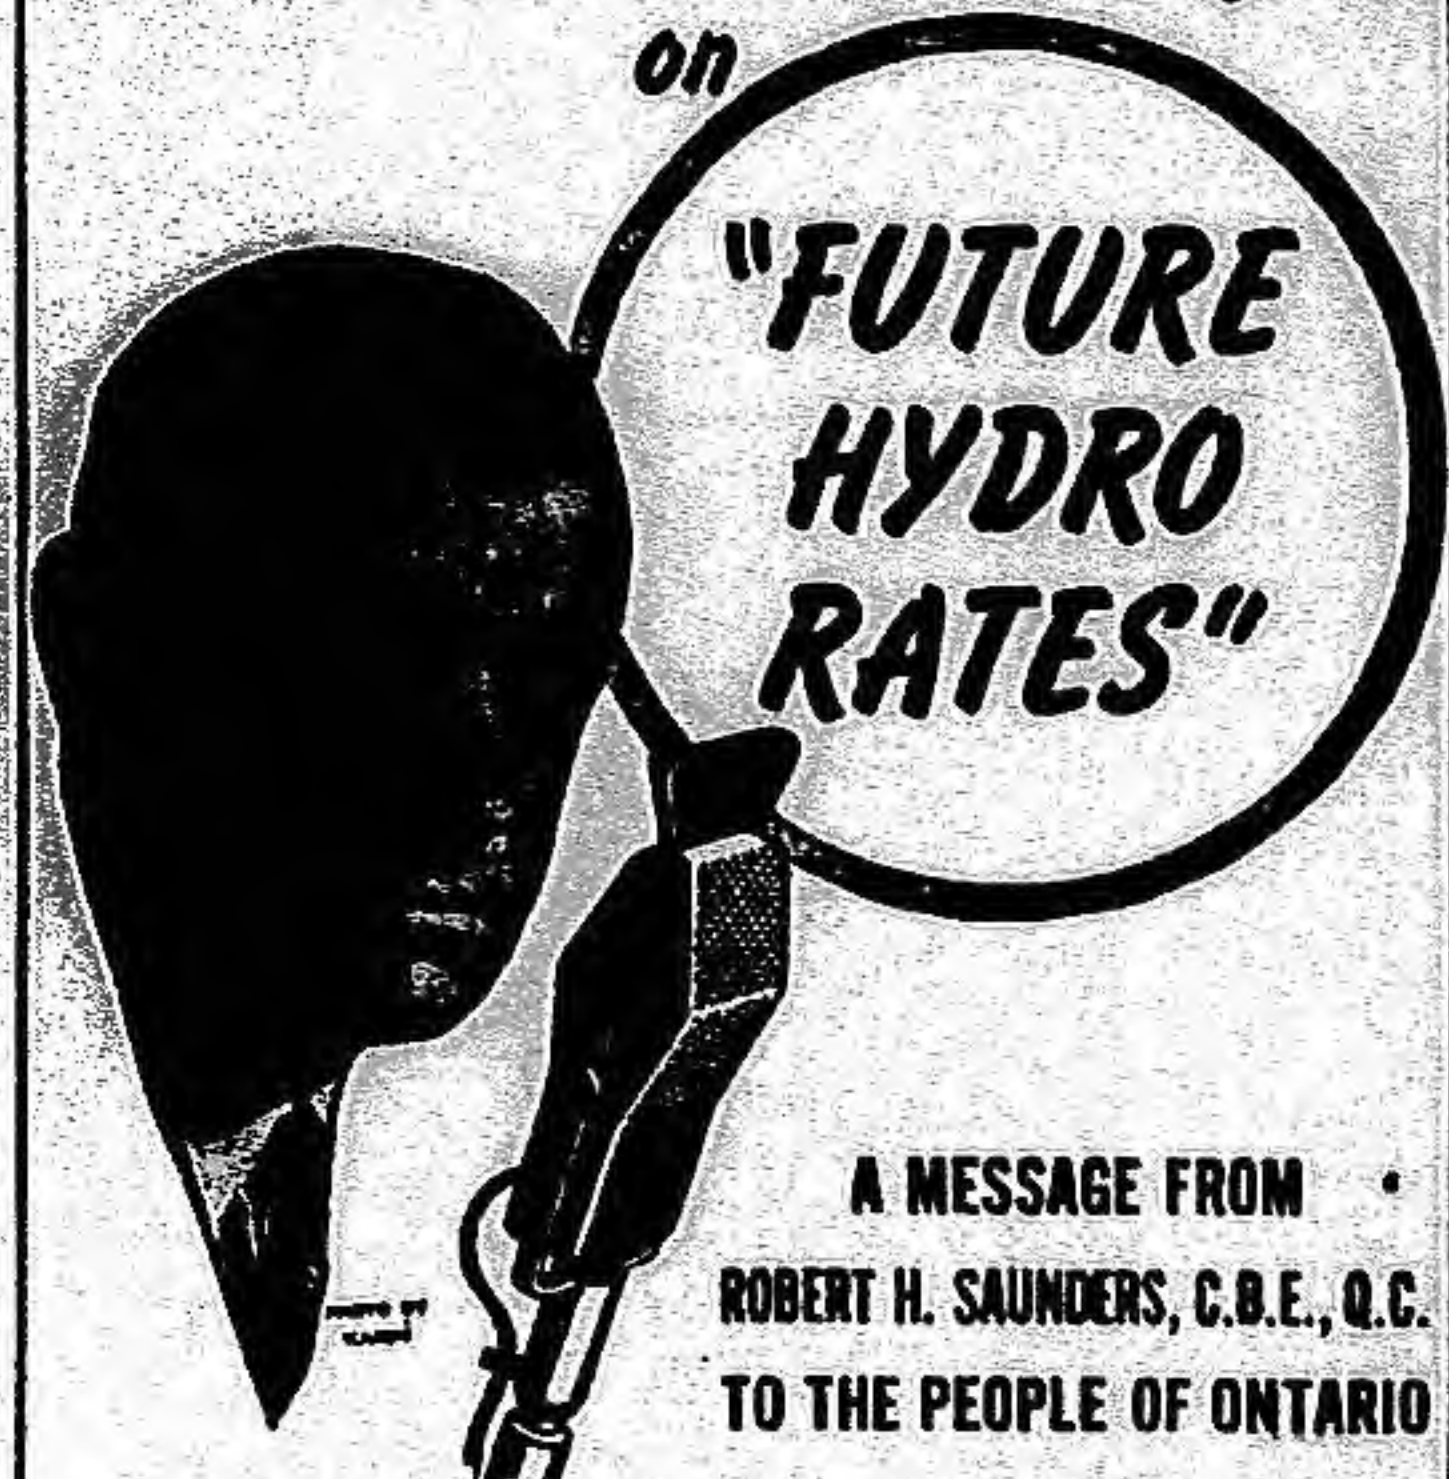

Mr. and Mrs. Simpson were married 46 years, and for a number of years they farmed on the fifth concession of King township on the present John Gould farm. They had lived in Toronto for some time.

Besides her husband, the deceased is survived by a son, Frank, who is serving with the army in Korea. He has three children, and they are with their mother at Pembroke. Frank is expected to return to Canada early in November. His father, King, niece of Mrs. Simpson, had endeavored to have his son returned home before his mother's death but this was not possible. A niece, Florence Garbe Johnston, of Toronto, is a survivor, also Mrs. Henry Gillham and Mrs. Loretta Paton of
